BIG LABOR WAR IS OFF

MAD PANIC AT AUTO RACES

Scores Are Hurt When Large Section of Crowded Grand Stand Collapses

Ambulances Hurry to Scene and When 'Nobody Killed' Is Heard Racing Starts

ELGIN, Aug. 26.—Len Tengel won the race for the Elgin Cup with a National car.

Near the end of the road race today Sam Jacobs, mechanic for Dave Buck, was killed and Buck was injured when the Pope-Hartford in which Buck was speeding left the track and turned completely over. Buck was traveling at about 65 miles an hour when he threw a tire. His car jumped off the track, throwing the driver out and inflicting what may prove fatal injuries. His mechanic was crushed to death instantly.

ELGIN, Aug. 26.—Sections 88 to 100 of the grandstand at the road races here today collapsed carrying 1000 to 1500 spectators down.

The only serious injuries were to two women and one man, all of whom sustained broken legs. Many were slightly injured.

The last car had just gotten away on the first lap when the other spectators were horrified to see several sections of the stand begin to sag. It made little noise and the seat holders were carried to the ground at a speed not greater than that of an express elevator in a high office building.

Chairman Gregory of the contest committee ordered the race stopped and one by one, as the cars came around, they were signalled to return to the pits. It took nearly ten minutes to get an automobile ambulance to the scene.

A man was taken away in one ambulance and two women in a second one.

The injured: John R. Delaney, Elgin, ankle broken. Mrs. C. A. Cori, Chicago, eye bruised and ankle sprained.

Mrs. C. A. Corey, Chicago, eye bruised. Mrs. Ray Graham, daughter of Senator William Lorimer and daughter-in-law of Andrew Graham, recently a candidate for mayor of Chicago. Mrs. Graham's leg was broken.

The seats which fell were of the kind known as "clutch" and were hastily completed yesterday by the Cleveland, O., contractor, who had furnished them to the recent aviation meet. The stringers on which the seats rested had been nailed to the pillars instead of being anchored, and the strain of the crowd of yesterday and today proved too heavy a burden. The whole mass sunk and the occupants were thrown in the middle.

As the stand collapsed a hush fell over

CHICAGO, Aug. 26.—A conference has been arranged between Vice-President Julius Kruttschnitt of the Union Pacific and Southern Pacific and the international presidents of the trade unions involved in the labor dispute of shopmen employed by the Harriman lines at San Francisco, Saturday, September 2, at which another effort will be made to avoid the threatened strike of 25,000 railroad workers.

J. W. Kline, international president of the Blacksmiths' Union, received a telegram from Vice-President Kruttschnitt today stating that he would be in San Francisco until September 2 and that he would meet the international presidents there. Mr. Kline, after communicating with the international presidents arranged a meeting to be held at San Francisco September 2.

The meeting of the labor leaders scheduled for Kansas City on Monday was called off.

President Kline will meet a committee from the Illinois Central road tomorrow before leaving for San Francisco. Mr. Kline said today: "The calling of a strike of the shopmen on the Harriman lines depends on what is done at the conference at San Francisco with Mr. Kruttschnitt. We insist that the federated body of workers be recognized by the railroads."

REGUIN IS OPTIMISTIC.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 26.—E. L. Reguin of the Federation of Shop Employees of the Harriman system was optimistic today in regard to the possibility of a conference with Vice-President Kruttschnitt on the latter's arrival in this city. "Mr. Kruttschnitt," said Reguin, "has at least said that he is willing to meet representatives of individual unions. The officers of these unions will be instructed to refuse to act as individuals and to state no business can be done

A man named Gunderloch, a fugitive from justice, returned from London to the house of his father-in-law in Rendol, where his wife was living. Early this morning Gunderloch shot his wife, her parents and her brother and sister and then escaped. Gunderloch's body later was found in a potato field where he had committed suicide by firing a bullet into his mouth.

SHERIFF BARNET DISCHARGES CHIEF JAILER WHITE; ALSO MOFFITT

New men in charge at the Alameda county jail. Charles Clark (at left, upper picture) succeeds Chief Jailer P. L. White. Eugene Stachler (at right) is assistant jailer in place of Joseph D. Moffitt. The lower picture is of Daniel Ferguson, who takes the place made vacant by the promotion of Charles Clark.

CHANGES AT COUNTY JAIL

Charles Clark Has Been Placed in Full Charge of the Prison

Eugene Stachler and Daniel Ferguson Will Act in the Capacity of Assistants

There was a big shakeup this forenoon in the personnel of the county jail staff. Sheriff Frank Barnett was not present when it occurred, but Under Sheriff J. J. Hanlin Jr. was on hand to represent him. It marked the compulsory retirement from the service of Chief Jailer P. L. White and Assistant Jailer Joseph D. Moffitt, the promotion of Assistant Jailer Charles Clark to the position of chief jailer, with a salary of $150 a month, and the appointment of Eugene Stachler and Daniel Ferguson as assistant jailers at salaries of $100 a month. The former takes the place made vacant by the elevation of Clark, while Ferguson is slated to do the office duties that devolved upon Moffitt. Deputy Sheriff George Sturtevant swore Stachler and Ferguson in, and the appointments were all duly filed and recorded in the office of County Clerk John P. Cook before the noon hour.

ACTION BY SHERIFF.

A week ago, when the sheriff first got wind of Chief Jailer White and Assistant Jailer Moffitt's contemplated escape from jail of Wong Yoo, opium smuggler and Chinese merchant and a federal prisoner, to San Francisco on several occasions, he suspended both of them from duty pending the investigation of their cases by Judge Van Fleet of the federal court in San Francisco.

Immediately after the jurist decided yesterday afternoon that both White and Moffitt were in contempt of court, and to a moral certainty guilty of accepting bribes from the Chinese as the price of his temporary liberties, Sheriff Barnett returned to Oakland and made an order revoking the appointments of both White and Moffitt, promoting Clark to the position of chief jailer and appointing Stachler and Ferguson.

THEY HAD TO GO.

The sheriff had come to the conclusion the early part of the current week that, no matter which way the case against White and Moffitt went in the federal court, it would be impossible for him to retain either of them on his staff in the face of the notoriety their conduct had brought his office into, so that, independent of how their case might have gone, they were slated for retirement anyway. Clark has been connected with the county jail for nearly nine years and secured his promotion on account of seniority of service, where his wife has been living since the separation. The body was discovered this morning by a newspaper carrier.

The hotels may have to close for the season, as there is a general exodus of guests. The Jackson militia is being held in readiness to go there for duty before darkness.

TRIES TO KILL CHILD AND HERSELF

Alameda Woman Drugs Girl, Who Revives and Secures Aid.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 26.—Despondent because of the death of her husband, a former restaurateur whose place of business was at the corner of Seventh street and Broadway, Oakland, Mrs. A. Marcovich, who resides at 1408 Ninth street, Alameda, this morning attempted to take her life and that of her daughter, Ellen, 9 years of age, on the ocean beach near the pumping station.

She soaked her handkerchief in chloroform, which she applied to the nostrils of the child, who soon became unconscious. The mother then placed the drug-soaked handkerchief over her own face and lay down to die.

With the fumes of the drug gone the fresh air soon revived the child, who, when she saw her mother lying unconscious beside her, ran in search of help. She found a policeman, A. J. Dolan, who immediately summoned an ambulance and had the woman and the child taken to the Park hospital.

The girl informed the physician that since her father died in the early part of this year her mother had been in an unhappy state of mind. She has frequently spoken of her wish to die and rejoin her husband. For some time after Mrs. Marcovich was taken to the hospital her life was despaired of, but at last accounts the doctors stated that they were of the opinion that they would be able to save her.

LEAVE EARLY IN MORNING.

ALAMEDA, Aug. 26.—Mrs. Alice Marcovich, her daughter, Ellen, and Mrs. Marcovich's mother, Mrs. Brown, left their home at 1408 Ninth street, early this morning. It is supposed by neighbors that Mrs. Brown, who is a seamstress, went to work. The child told several of her friends last night that she and her mother were going today to the Cliff House on a picnic.

Aviator to Experiment On Landing on Ships

PENNYMAN, N. Y., Aug. 26.—Glenn H. Curtiss will begin experiments here next week with a view to rising from and alighting on a warship without the assistance of elaborate platforms or apparatus. He has a cable in the air on which the hydroplane will run two hundred feet and then drop into space. The hydroplane will then return and attempt to alight on the cable. Its pontoon rests on the cable in a groove. The cable will be stretched between the ship's masts.

JACK VAN SICKLEN TO WED MISS SUE HARROLD

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Harrold announce today the engagement of their daughter, Miss Sue Harrold, to Jack Van Sicklen.

The Harrolds are among the pioneer families of Fruitvale, and their home there has for many years been the center of much delightful hospitality, and the young sons and daughters of the family are very popular with a large circle of friends. Mr. Harrold is a well known business man of San Francisco, and was for years a business partner of the late George Wheaton. He is one of the well known business men around the bay. The young men of the Harrold family are graduates of the University of California, and they are already successful in business lines.

The bride-elect, Miss Sue Harrold, is a most charming girl, unspoiled, and unaffected. She is a graduate of the Oakland high school, and she belongs to a set of young girls who practically made their debut last winter. She was one of the members of the successful dances chaperoned by Mrs. C. C. Clay and Mrs. William Creed. She is a very charming girl, with many friends to send her cordial good wishes for her future happiness. Miss Harrold was of a group of girls who went out in society a great deal last winter, and among her most intimate friends are Miss Madeline Clay, Miss Pussy Creed, Mrs. Loraine Longstroth (Sue Hall), Miss Farnum (Alice Albright). The Harrolds had planned to announce the engagement of their daughter, Sue, at an elaborate card party in their East Oakland home, but the passing, a short time ago, of Mr. Harrold's mother, Mrs. Harrold senior, has changed the plans of the family.

Jack Van Sicklen is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Van Sicklen of Alameda. They have one of the most beautiful homes in that city, and are equally well known across the bay, as Mr. Van Sicklen has for years been one of the most prominent business men on the coast. The family is well known also in social circles all around the bay, spending each winter at the Fairmont. Mr. Jack Sicklen is also very popular with both young and old friends. He is a splendid fellow, who gives promise of a future successful in many ways. No date has been set for the wedding of the young people.

Many complimentary affairs will be arranged later for this happy bride-elect, and meantime this formal announcement of the engagement of the young people will bring to them both innumerable good wishes and congratulations.

RAILWAY STRIKE AVERTED; CONFERENCE IS ARRANGED

Vice-President of Harriman Lines to Meet Labor Officials in San Francisco Sept. 2 to Discuss Troubled Situation

except through the Federation. However, I take it that Mr. Kruttschnitt, by saying that he is willing to receive these men, is willing to meet us half way. There is no ill-feeling between the men and the railroad officials, but the workers are determined to enforce their demands."

OGDEN, Utah, Aug. 26.—Julius Kruttschnitt, vice-president and director of maintenance of the Harriman railway system, spent a few minutes today in Ogden in conference with W. H. Bancroft, general manager of the Oregon Short Line, before proceeding to San Francisco. To the Associated Press Mr. Kruttschnitt said he was making his regular inspection trip. When asked if he expected to have a conference in San Francisco with representatives of the Federation of Shop Employees, he replied:

"I do not expect to, although I have said many times that I am ready to meet at any time representatives of the individual unions. I am always ready to confer with them, but am not willing to treat with the officials of the Federation."

Discussing the shortening of working hours and the laying off of men over the system, Mr. Kruttschnitt said: "For a long time we were hopeful that we would not be forced to do so, but business conditions became such that we were obliged to. This reduction was not especially directed towards shopmen, but applied to all departments. There was a proportionately greater reduction in the general offices than elsewhere."

CARMEN'S OFFICIAL TALKS.

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 26.—"Unless Vice-President Kruttschnitt soon fixes a date and place for a conference regarding recognition of the federated unions on the Harriman system, trouble will result," said M. F. Ryan, international president of the United Brotherhood of Carmen at his office here today.

"We are expecting an announcement regarding the conference from the west at any time. Every hour's delay gives us additional difficulty in holding men down. We are busy sending telegrams all over the system trying to keep them down."

"Mr. Kruttschnitt has said he would remain only two or three days in California. It will be hard to get the heads of the five labor organizations concerned to San Francisco on short notice. President Lovett has agreed to meet us at any time in New York, but we prefer to meet Mr. Kruttschnitt in the west."

REDUCTIONS IN SOUTH.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 26.—Complying with orders received last night officials of the Southern Pacific mechanical departments here laid off 300 men. The shops were closed today, Saturday work having been suspended since the order became effective, reducing the working time to eight hours, five days a week.

More than 2000 men are employed in the Southern Pacific shops in this district. District Superintendent Platt said today he did not know yet whether there would be further reductions in the working forces.

Salt Lake and Santa Fe Railroad officials stated that no orders had been received by them to make similar cuts in their shop forces. The principal shops of the Santa Fe are at San Bernardino, where the men are still working full time.

MEN AWAIT KRUTTSCHNITT.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 26.—Awaiting the arrival of Vice-President Julius Kruttschnitt of the Harriman lines in this city tomorrow, twenty-five thousand shopmen throughout the railway system are keyed up to the point where they may strike on a moment's notice. The men voted during the week on the proposition to strike, and at present all that restrains them from walking out is the prospect of an amicable settlement in the conference with Kruttschnitt after he arrives.

Just why Kruttschnitt is hastening to this city is a matter of speculation with the unions as well as the public but it is thought he wants to see for himself just how much power the federated employees have throughout the system. He has summoned to his office a number of officials from the offices here to meet him in Nevada, among them E. E. Calvin.

That ever since the demands were made upon the company August 1 the officials have been collecting data to find out the relative strength of the organization is the belief of the labor leaders, who declare on their part that they control 90 per cent of the employees.

VIOLATION OF AGREEMENT

Alleged violation of their agreement with the railroad company as to matters affecting retrenchment on the part of the company are point of controversy. It being claimed that more than a week ago the company cut the hours from nine to eight and the days from six to five with a corresponding slice in wages, while yesterday twenty per cent of the men here have been laid off simultaneously with the raising of the hours to nine and a six-day week to be effective next Monday.

Officials of the federation say this action is a violation of the spirit of the existing agreement, though a technical compliance. The contract in force provides that as a first means of retrenchment the hours shall be reduced and then, if further retrenchment is necessary, men shall be laid off. To comply with the agreement, the railroad reduced the hours during one week, then laid off the men and simultaneously restored the nine-hour day and six-day week.

600 LAID OFF AT CAPITAL.

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 26.—Six hundred men were laid off last night at the Southern Pacific shops and the reduction

INVESTIGATION OF ATTACK TO END

Detectives Say Manufactured Evidence Was Found in Gallagher Case.

Doubt Story of Assault on Woman as Told by Dr. Stout.

Investigation of the strange attack which Dr. J. C. Stout declared to the police had been made two weeks ago upon his office nurse, Mrs. J. J. Gallagher, has been virtually dropped by the police because of the peculiar element of contradiction which has defeated all attempts to formulate any reasonable theory about the affair. Mrs. Gallagher has refused to give any satisfactory account of the manner in which she claims to have been chloroformed, and has asked that the matter be dropped. Dr. Stout, while failing to present a reasonable excuse for having delayed two weeks in reporting the alleged attack, has presented the problem to the police as to why he should have reported it at all after making this delay.

MANUFACTURED EVIDENCE.

Manufactured evidence is said to have been found by inspectors Richard McSorley and E. Flynn who have been working on the mystery. They visited the office of Dr. Stout at 1263 Twenty-third avenue, where the attack on Mrs. Gallagher is alleged to have taken place. Dr. Stout advanced the theory that her assailant had entered the office by way of a transom over the door, and displayed a wire screen partially ripped from its frame. The detectives investigated, and found to their astonishment that the screen had been torn away from the inside of the room, and that fingerprints in the dust on the ledge over the door showed that while nobody had passed through the aperture, the work had been done from the inside of the room. They concluded that this was merely a piece of manufactured evidence and paid no further attention to it.

TALE OF SHOOTING.

A new feature was added to the case last evening by Dr. Stout's statement that an attempt had been made within the past few days to shoot Dr. Stout. The bullet passing through the cloth of her shirtwaist near the shoulder. The police are inclined to consider this merely as an additional chapter to the strange romance, to which they have been unable to find a solution.

It developed today that Mrs. Gallagher's husband, S. J. Gallagher, is an invalid. Mrs. Gallagher is about 40, and has been an attendant in Dr. Stout's office for a considerable period of time. Dr. Stout is a widower.

MESSANGER BOY IS ROBBER'S VICTIM

Police After Vigorous Chase Capture Suspect Who Refuses Name

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 26.—This morning a messenger boy, Pedro Bruno, was robbed and assaulted at the intersection of Vallejo and Kearny streets. He cried out as soon as the robber left him and attracted the attention of Policeman Calletti and pointed in the direction the robber had taken and Calletti followed, calling upon the man who was running away to stop. The command was not obeyed and the policeman fired two shots at the fugitive.

The thief kept on running and dodged around several corners and finally eluded the policeman. Several minutes afterward the officer came upon a man who was panting and exhausted as if he had been running, and took him into custody. The suspect refused to give his right name. He was booked and charged with robbery.

Arson Ring Causes Losses of $1,000,000

CHICAGO, Aug. 26.—David Korschack, a former saloonkeeper and alleged leader of the arson ring said to have been responsible for fifty incendiarious fires involving a loss of $1,000,000 within a year, is said to have made admissions to the police implicating four business men, three of whom have been taken into custody. The men in custody are: Charles Bloom, a merchant; Max Feilshchmidt, insurance adjuster; Isaac Schaeffer, real estate dealer. The police have ordered the arrest of Benjamin Pink, an employee of the Northwestern Can Company, believed to be in Brazil, Indiana, in connection with a fire which originated in the company's plant in Chicago May 26, which caused a loss of $200,000.

DELTA LAND OWNERS TO FORM AN ORGANIZATION

Colonel John P. Irish Calls a Meeting of Those Who Are Interested in Protect- ing Holdings Along River

A meeting of holders of Delta lands in the Sacramento and San Joaquin valleys for the purpose of forming a permanent organization for mutual protection and benefit, is being held this afternoon in the rooms of the local Chamber of Commerce, Thirteenth and Harrison streets. The meeting was brought to this city at the instance of Colonel John P. Irish, one of the owners of lands in question, the meeting being called by him in conjunction with Eugene L. Wilhoit, Frank A. West, W. D. Buckley, M. D. Eaton, John M. Perry, Chas. B. Smith, Geo. E. Wilhoit, O. Y. Woodward, E. W. S. Woods, Richard Russell Smith, Carson C. Cook. The object of the association is to supply information to its members in regard to tenants, co-operate in experimental work in order to secure larger returns from the lands in question, in view of the charge necessary for the protection of the lands from floods, and to secure public roads and bridges for the section. The property holders feel that where the delta lands in both the Sacramento and San Joaquin valleys are claimed and maintained only after such a heavy cost that they should be protected and their owners with them by a mutual benefit organization. At the meeting of today a constitution and by-laws will be drawn up and a directory elected.

SHERIFF DEPOSES WHITE AND MOFFITT

Changes in the Personnel of the Management of the County Jail.

is among the most popular members of Sheriff Barnett's staff, and the latter believes that he will rise to most efficient and trustworthy chief jailer. He has a wife and three children and has always made it a practice to divide his time between his official duties and his home. Sheriff Barnett has given the new chief jailer the widest scope on the management of the jail, and has left to him the matter of detailing the staff.

STACHLER AND FERGUSON.

Clark said this forenoon that for the present at least Stachler and Ferguson could familiarize themselves thoroughly with the duties of their respective positions under his personal direction. Clark's predecessor served nearly eight years as chief jailer and before that time his assistant was Court Balluff. Moffitt was his assistant for nearly seven years, having been a railroad conductor before entering the sheriff's office.

Eugene Stachler is one of the best known ward politicians of Oakland and previous to the last municipal election was a councilman. He ran for a commission on the new charter, but was defeated by Commissioner C. T. Weller. Daniel Ferguson, the other new jailer, has also been in politics for a number of years. He was a candidate for the Assembly from the Forty-eighth Assembly district, which is in Oakland, but was defeated by Robert Callaghan. For the last year he has been business agent of the Bartenders' Union, local No. 625.

WONG YOU RETURNED.

United States Marshal C. T. Elliott of San Francisco ordered the return of Wong You to the Alameda county jail, and last night he was taken out of the city prison across the bay, where he had been held ever since federal secret agents picked him up at his store in Dupont street, and delivered him to Chief Jailer Clark by a federal agent.

In making the order for the return of the Chinese, United States Marshal Elliott took occasion emphatically to express his confidence in Sheriff Barnett and compliment that official for the management of Clark as his chief jailer. There had been a great deal of talk that the Alameda county jail was in danger of losing the federal patronage as a result of the White-Moffitt episode, but the complimentary reference to Sheriff Barnett in deciding the contempt case, the return of Wong You to the county jail to serve out the unexpired term of six months for smuggling, and the return of the United States Marshal Elliott in ordering the return of the prisoner, all go to show that the jail will continue to enjoy the federal patronage and the high esteem of those in authority. In no wise do the federal officers intend to desert the Sheriff Barnett for conditions that existed under Chief Jailer White.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY BACK.

District Attorney William H. Donahue, who is on his vacation, returned home from Reno, Nev., this forenoon, but is leaving again immediately. He is called back by Assistant District Attorney W. H. L. Hynes in connection with the county jail scandal, and was closeted for more than an hour this morning with Hynes and Sheriff Barnett. The present disposition of the jail is the subject of the facts in the case, and Donahue stated that if he had been at home during the transaction he would not have handled the matter any differently in the district attorney's office than Hynes did. The sheriff asked Donahue what he should do in the case of Matron White, wife of the deceased chief jailer, and the latter advised him to hold the question of her future in abeyance pending the final disposition of her husband and Moffitt by Judge Van Fleet on Monday.

White called on the sheriff this morning and informed him that he would vacate the chief jailer's quarters in the jail with his personal effects some time this afternoon, and that he would like to see the sheriff at the same time that if possible the sheriff should continue Mrs. White in her position. Barnett replied that he was at present in no position to discuss the position of matron, and afterwards said that he would call on a representative of THE TRIBUNE.

MATRON MRS. WHITE.

"The district attorney does not think it advisable to bring Matron White into this middle at the present time, and neither do I. What I shall do in her case will be the subject of a statement. Asked for an expression concerning the dismissal of White and Moffitt, the sheriff was equally reticent. "White and Moffitt are having troubles enough of their own just at present," the sheriff said. "I am not at all certain that might add to their embarrassment. So far as I am concerned it is sufficient that they have to face the federal court for contempt. I am sorry for them and wish them well."

In view of the turn that the contempt proceedings have taken against the two

ROLPH TALKS AT FOUR GATHERINGS

Candidate Tells Big Crowds His Outline of What He Would Do as Mayor.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 26.—With every part of the city shouting itself hoarse over its declaration for James Rolph as next Mayor, the candidate is occupying every spare moment in his endeavor to meet voters. He put in his appearance at four different meetings last night.

At Foresters' Hall, under the auspices of the Municipal Conference in the Thirty-ninth district, he greeted an enthusiastic crowd. The street in front of the building was packed. A feature of the meeting was the presentation of a large bouquet by a little girl to the candidate.

Rolph told the people of his desire to carry his own district by a large majority and this was assured him in many shouts. He mentioned also numerous needed improvements, laying particular stress upon the necessity of more water mains and fire protection in the hillside districts. At Wilhoit's hall he reiterated his statements and there an unusual incident occurred when the candidate was greeted by an elderly woman who shouted "Hurrah for Jimmie Rolph. I know you Jim, you're Scotch and Irish and you're a right."

Labor unions were also discussed and in that particular the candidate referred to Captain Anderson, who commands one of the Rolph ships. Anderson told them of conditions, all of which were favorable to union men.

In Bracken's Hall, Ocean boulevard, Rolph told a large gathering of his favoring the building of a scenic boulevard and esplanade along the beach, same to be completed in time for the 1915 fair. "Of course, a great many of such improvements will depend upon the state of the city treasury," he said. "But if it is possible you may depend upon it that they will be constructed."

Upon the advice of his associates Rolph has decided to confine his canvass to five days of each week, and from now on he will make no appearances on Saturday nights. Plans for raising meetings are being made and next week will be one of great activity for the candidate. Important of these will be one to be held in the Harbor View exposition site section under the auspices of the Rolph Non-partisan club.

RUSH WORK ON CANAL DOCKS

Effort to be Made to Finish the Ditch and Landings at Same Time.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—That a strenuous effort is being made by the Isthmian Canal Commission to complete the Panama Canal and most of its accessories simultaneously is indicated by the progress being made on the docks at the Atlantic terminal of the waterway. Work has just been begun on the second dock at that end and the Canal Commission officers here have received requisitions for steel caissons and reinforcing iron. The first dock was started several weeks ago. Ultimately there will be six docks at the Atlantic entrance but only two will be erected at this time.

GENERAL GUNNER IS DEAD.

DALLAS, Texas, Aug. 26.—General Rudolph Emanuel Gunner, one-time commander of the Imperial Guard of Emperor Maximilian, and in the agency of that potentate governor of the royal palace of Chapultepec, and in his later life a prominent business man and Mason of Dallas, died yesterday at his home here.

A WEALTH OF BEAUTIFUL HAIR

Nothing equals an aureole of beautiful hair as a frame for a pretty face. Without a background of nice hair a really pretty face frequently becomes plain and, with it, unattractive features assume life and beauty.

Every woman can increase her natural charm by using Newbro's Herpicide. Herpicide makes hair beautiful. The dandruff germ saps the vitality of the hair. Herpicide kills this germ and prevents the hair from falling out, giving it a snap and luster, a soft, silky fluffiness which can be acquired in no other way.

Your druggist will sell you a one-dollar size bottle under an absolute guarantee.

Send 10c in postage for sample and booklet to The Herpicide Co., Dept. R, Detroit, Mich.

Applications may be obtained at the best barber shops and hair dressing parlors.

NEW LOW RECORD IN WALL STREET

Business Opens With Much Depression and is Followed by Slight Rally.

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—Weakness in stocks was shown at the opening of the market with a number of new low records. Canadian Pacific declined 2, with one point losses in the Harriman stocks, Soo and American Smelting. Other losses were almost equally substantial.
The dealings in United States Steel, which declined to yesterday's low point, and Union Pacific, which sold at 156, were especially heavy.
Further declines soon after the opening were followed by the usual weak rally, but the movement was clearly indicative of recurrent liquidation. Overnight developments in which the threatened railroad strike was the serious factor, were mostly of a discouraging character, and to this was added disappointing trade conditions. Before 11 o'clock Union Pacific, Reading and Steel had recovered most of their losses, but elsewhere the list straggled.

BATTERY B TO HOLD A SMOKER

City Officials and Many Prominent Business Men to Attend.

Battery B, Field Artillery, N. G. C., will make its initial bow to the public this evening by giving a campfire and smoker. The committee in charge has worked hard and a very enjoyable evening is assured.

The entire fifth infantry band will be in attendance. An interesting program consisted of boxing, singing, etc., has been arranged. All of the threatened railroad attendees, and many of the Chamber of Commerce and Merchants' Exchange.

One interesting feature will be the christening of one of the field pieces.
This gun will be named after one of the local business men, whose name has been chosen.

Commander R. J. Faneuf, the battery commander, and Lieutenants Huber and Viceroy will leave for Sparta, Wis., on Monday evening to attend the school of artillery to be held at that place.

CARPENTER CAUGHT IN LIVE WIRES IS KILLED

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 26.—Chas.
Cogan, a carpenter employed at the State Fair, was electrocuted Wednesday afternoon in the basement of the water tower on the grounds. He went into the basement to get a drink of water. His brother working near by heard an explosion and hastening into the water tower found Cogan entangled among some wires and slowly burning to death. He was dead before the current could be shut off.

hurt. The battleship was not dam-

BURGLARS MAKE USE OF DRUG

Two Los Angeles Residences
Plundered While Inmates Are Drugged.

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 26.—With the aid of chloroform, it is claimed, the residences of Fred O. Rockard and Thomas Peary, on M street, were robbed some time during Thursday night. Both in the evening an attempt to rob the safe in the office of a local iron works company failed. So far the police say they have slight clues to work upon.

From the residence of Rockard, who is a city employee, two suits of clothes and $15 in money was stolen. Peary lost a gold watch, some jewelry and a small amount of money. The families in each house felt the effects of the anaesthetic used by the burglar when they awakened.

At the office of the iron-works, P. J.
Piepenbrink prevented the blowing of the safe. The thief escaped by the rear entrance as Piepenbrink entered. The front door had been forced.

KAISER HAS NICE WORDS FOR WIFE

Says Empress an Example to German Mothers Because Raised Six Sons.

ALTONA, Prussia, Aug. 26.—Emperor William last night made a noteworthy speech at a banquet in honor of the province of Schleswig-Holstein, whither he has come to attend the maneuvers. Referring to the empress as a daughter of the province, his majesty declared: "She is an example for German mothers because she has brought up six sons—serious, energetic men—who are not inclined to take advantage of the comforts and enjoyments of their rank, like many of the present-day youths, but have devoted their strength to the Fatherland in hard and strict fulfillment of duty. And should a serious occasion arise, are ready cheerfully to sacrifice their lives on the altar of their country."

Many of the newspapers are drawing the conclusion that the Emperor, in his speech, in referring to the patriotism of his sons, had in mind the dispute between Germany and France over Morocco.

BRANCH OF ROAD FROM DOYLE IS PROPOSED

OROVILLE, Aug. 26.—J. E. Sexton, who recently resigned his position as general manager of the Quincy Water and Electric company, promoting a proposition to build a narrow gauge railroad from Doyle, on the western Pacific, to Susanville, on the county seat of Lassen county. Sexton estimates the road will cost in the neighborhood of $350,000.

The proposed route of the new road is to be from Doyle along the shores of Honey lake through Milford and thence to Susanville and Susanville. From Standish the road will run through the rich valley lands to Lake Leavitt reservoir, the shores of which it will skirt, and thence to Susanville.

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 26.—With the selection of Spokane for the 1912 meeting of the National Association of State Insurance Commissioners ended yesterday. Fred W. Potter of Illinois was elected president; Frank H. Harris of Massachusetts, vice-president; and Harry L. Cunningham of Montana (re-elected) secretary.

William H. Hotchkiss of New York was again chosen chairman of the executive committee; S. A. Koser, Oregon, was elected to the same committee.

AVIATOR WALKER TO BECOME CHICKEN RAISER

SAN MATEO, Aug. 26.—The call of the clouds no longer lures Clarence H. Walker, the amateur aviator, who has just admitted from profits after a year's investment in the chicken farm.
Walker will enter the business on a large scale and has arranged with his mother, Mrs. Althea Walker, to use six acres of her beautiful San Mateo estate, which he will devote exclusively to fowl raising.

Chicken raising is nothing new to Walker, as his father, the late David Walker, capitalist, aviator, was just admitted from profits after a year's investment in the chicken farm. Walker was a chicken fancier, and Forest Lawn, his palatial country home, was noted for its blooded stock.

GOV. JOHNSON SCORED BY STATE SECRETARY JORDAN

Executive Termed 'Coward,' 'Incompetent Cock Robin' and Likened Unto Many Other Disreputable Characters

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 26.—Secretary of State Frank C. Jordan pays his respects to Governor Hiram W. Johnson in a 3000-word "open letter," which he is circulating as a defense to certain alleged charges by the governor against the way in which Jordan has been conducting his office.

The trouble between the two officials has been developing for months, and reached a crisis in the recent muddle over the constitutional amendments. Governor Johnson charged that Jordan's investigation into the reading of the or-ginal copies of the amendments to be voted on this fall was "all rot." Jordan in reply styles the governor an "incompetent Cock Robin," and comparing him to Admiral Sampson, "who was far away when Cervera was getting licked."

TRIES TO BE FRIENDS, HE SAYS.

Jordan says that when he took office he endeavored to establish harmonious relations with the Governor's office. He adds:

"I went to you, Governor, in all frankness and candor, and told you that I sought to have your assistance, and to assist you in every way to make your administration most creditable.

"Not once did I go, but thrice, and each time received from you assurances of friendship and a desire to co-operate with me. But, Governor, while you smiled in my face you were knitting me in the back.
Pretending that you had no interest in matters of legislation affecting my office, you were sending for senators and assemblymen, my friends, and holding them up to assist you in your schemes of injustice and wrong.

"Giving your favorites all the assistance they asked for, you forced the crimp-ling of my office.

OUTCRY CALLED 'ALL ROT.'

"When I called the attention of the Attorney General to the difficulty I was experiencing in preparing the amendments for submission you designated it as 'all rot.'"

"You know now that the condition these amendments were in was rotten.
"Instead of assisting me as you should in a matter so important, instead of looking into the matter, coming yourself, or sending a representative to see what the situation really was, you stood aloof and talked of 'jobbery' and 'of the rights of the people in jeopardy.'"

"In a Los Angeles paper of recent date you were credited with saying:

"Today I received my first intimation of the matter (the effort to prevent the amendment going on the ballot. I think there is a job on foot to prevent the direct legislation amendment being submitted. Immediately on my arrival in Sacramento Sunday I will take the matter up."

"How cowardly and unfair, Governor.
You know what you said. You had nothing to back up such an assertion or intimation.

"On Monday last, you, Governor, upon your return to the capitol after an absence of many days, said in an interview concerning the submission of the constitutional amendments:

NO JOCKEYING GOES.

"The time has gone by in the state of California when any officer can jockey official documents and thwart the will of the people."

"In an evening paper of this city on Tuesday night appeared this statement:
"By you."

"I am concerned only with the constitutional amendments and the special election of October 10.

"For two weeks I have been reading in the press that there would be no special election, and the election of the constitutional amendments would be submitted to the people, because the exact phraseology of these amendments could not be ascertained.

"Here in front of me are the statutes of 1911, printed by the state of California. This volume is the official volume for the courts and the people of the state, and contained in it are those very constitutional amendments set forth in detail and printed exactly word for word and comma for comma.

"CERTIFIED BY PARISH."

"Secretary of the Senate Parish says he certified them. The statutes have been in the hands of the bench and bar for more than a month and in order that this official volume might be printed somebody had to know officially what the constitutional amendments were, and here they are, officially set forth.

"Sunday night on my arrival I found that it was asserted that the amendments were inextricably confused and could not be printed. This morning, I am pleased to say, the amendments will be printed, unless some other obstacle shall be created—and of course the people cannot obtain direct legislation without all sorts of opposition.

"You know that these amendments as set forth in the statutes you referred to are 'then' because certified by the officials of the legislature to you as being the final action of each branch of the legislature and your office officially notified the State Printer regarding each and directed their publication.

"You doubtly little admiral of our ship of state had no more to do with starting the presses or ordering those amendments to be printed last Tuesday than Sampson had with the licking given Cervera. Like him, you arrived on the scene after the fight was over.

"On August 11 I turned to the Attorney-General for advice, and he not only told me not to regard the certifications of the legislature as to Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 2 and Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 6, certified after the legislature had adjourned—but Mr. Parish told me he had changed the journal to conform to them
—but to go further, disregard their cer-tification of all amendments and refer to the journals of the legislature the full and complete stories and there ascertain the exact language of the amendments.
The approval of the requisite number of the members of the legislature as shown by the journals; that in the performance of this duty, you should disregard any document certified to you by the officers of either branch of the legislature which is not in accordance with the fact, the existence of which is proved to you through an examination of the official journals of that body.

"I did. And what a mess I found. A poor record with inattention to duty. Inefficiency and incompetency, which, bolling over, ran even within the portal of the 'holy of holies' of our state, where you, the 'High Priest,' sat, and in blissful ignorance of what was set before you, the too much and too often of the editorial of the legislature, and as the records sent to my office have too frequently shown the defects, in which, if not discovered by me and corrections made, would in the end have endangered the state's interests.

GOVERNOR CAUSED DELAY.

"And right here I charge you and your adherents because it is notorious that they do nothing without consulting you —with being responsible for the delay in the printing of these constitutional amendments, and with having 'jockeyed' with these public documents.

"I did not think that my letter of August 11 was before the Attorney-General the opinion was first held that I must take my copy from the enrolled bills and in doing so must submit Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 6, as enrolled, and certified by William J.
Brennan, John W. Connelley, Earl
Rogers, Frank E. Kering and Del Cary
Smith.

Exhibition of Prizefight Will Result in Test of New Maine Law.

BAR HARBOR, Me., Aug. 26.—A public exhibition of moving pictures of the Jefferson-Johnson prizefight for the heavyweight championship of the world, given here on Wednesday night, may result seriously for a number of prominent citizens of Bar Harbor. One arrest has been made, and several "John Doe" warrants are waiting to be served. A large crowd saw the pictures, which had been shown a few evenings previously at a "private dinner party" given at the summer residence of Edward E. McLean of Washington.

The cases will be the first to be tried in Maine under the state law prohibiting the public exhibition of motion pictures of prizefights.

GERMAN CRUISER VIOLATES INTERNATIONAL ETIQUETTE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—The action of the German cruiser Bremen in holding off the coast of England and within the three-mile limit without permission from this Government is regarded by high officers of the Navy here as a breach of international etiquette and a fit subject for a protest to Germany.

"The matter, however, they declare, is largely a state department affair," and the officials of that department are uncommunicative on the subject except to say that this Government was advised by Germany of the visit of the ship, and that no objection was made.
The exercise was asked. Had permission been asked, it was pointed out, it undoubtedly would have been granted.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 26.—Without intentions of their friends or a prolonged engagement, Ensign Weyman Potter Beehier, United States Navy, and Miss Irene Beyon were married at Sonoma, Tuolumne county, on Tuesday, returning to this city on the following day, and are now staying at the St. Francis.

Beehier, who is attached to the cruiser West Virginia, met Miss Beyon here a year ago, but it is understood that the engagement was of short duration and that the first the bride's parents, who live in the same city, knew of the marriage was after the wedding. The ex-formation was that he had secured a short leave of absence from duty.

LABORS OF AERIE TO CLOSE TONIGHT

Eagles Declare for State Autonomy and Elect List of Grand Officers.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 26.—Resolving itself into a committee of the whole, the Grand Aerie of the Fraternal Order of Eagles has declared for State autonomy with the result that hereafter State aeries, district aeries, or aeries in British Columbia may be organized and if 75 per cent of the unit of the organization join, the other must become affiliated with the suo facto aerie.

The session yesterday afternoon was called to order by Past Grand President Earl Rogers of Los Angeles, as Grand Worthy President-elect Frank E. Kering refused to take either one side or the other in the fight over the features of the day was the suspension of Philadelphia Aerie No. 42, resulting from the body sending as a delegate to the convention B. J. Monaghan, past worthy grand president, who was expelled a year ago from the Grand Aerie.

John S. Parry of San Francisco was elected grand secretary in a one-sided contest. He received 1854 votes as against 366 for his opponent, John F. Maloney.
Fred J. Lynch of New Westminster, B. C., was elected grand treasurer. Conrad H. Mann, Joseph B. Dowling, Geo. May and E. D. Sanders were announced as elected grand trustees.

Practically a unanimous vote was recorded against recognition of a ladies' auxiliary. The women attending the convention with their husbands were taken about the city on a sightseeing expedition.
Today seven beehives and 700 pounds of mutton will be disposed of by the 1911
Eagles entertainment committee at Half Day, a mammoth barbecue. In addition several thousand bottles of wine will be given away.

Tonight the entertainment committee will give its banquet to the past grand officers and the grand officers of the convention. Several guests of honor will be invited to cover four arrangements have been made for about 200 plates at the St. Francis.

The toastmaster of the evening will be Warren Shannon. An address of wel-

GREATEST CIRCUS

IN WORLD COMING

AT PABST CAFE

Ringling Brothers' Amusement Aggregation to Show Here on September 7 Next.

Two Well-Known Italian Singers to Delight Cafe Diners.

In brilliant colors and large type the billboards are announcing that Ringling Brothers' World's Greatest Shows are to appear in Oakland on Thursday, September 7.

This is the circus that amazed New York City with its splendid novelties. It completely filled every corner and cranny of Madison Square Garden from the cellar to the great glass roof. The immense auditorium was not large enough to hold the crowds that sought admittance. When the show is under canvas it covers fourteen acres of ground. The main performance is presented in the largest tent ever built.

The Ringling circus is twenty-eight years old this season. The first performance was given in Baraboo, Wisconsin, on April 5, 1883. The tent was made from a lumber yard. The five brothers made all their ring "props." They had but one horse. They gave the performance without assistance. Al was an excellent juggler. He tossed cannon balls and hats with the skill of a wizard. Alfred led the silver cornet band. Charles was an acrobat and an aerialist. John was a talking and singing clown. Otto looked after the financial end. It was a very small beginning, but it was an earnest endeavor. Simple as it all seems it was enough to make them sufficient money to start out the following year with a bright little show. A few years later they made their first tour with a railroad show.

From then on, in spite of bitter opposition of rival concerns, the five showmen foraged ahead. It was very long and very hard. They were often on the defensive side of the game. The Ringlings had come to stay.

MIRACLE OF SUCCESS.

The rest of their history reads like a miracle. Beginning with nothing they have built the greatest amusement enterprise in the history of the world. Their wonderful popularity and success can be traced principally to two things: They were "on the square" with the people, and they had the peculiar talents that achieve greatness. The name of Ringling is a guarantee of satisfaction. Their word is as safe as the figures on Uncle Sam's money.

In its new dress the circus this year presents an inspiring picture. The show grounds are a city of a thousand wonders. All the great talent of the world shows itself in the performance. The foreign agents of the show engaged the company with but very few exceptions. Of the 375 performers there are 100 who were never seen in America before

Banks Were Easy Picking for Methods of Tacoma Forger Suspect.

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 26.—Frank H. Kimball, alias J. W. Wortham, alias Joe A. Matthews, 50 years of age, was arrested late last night in a Tacoma lodging house by two Seattle city detectives on a charge of forgery. He was brought to Seattle. In his suitcase was found cash and bills to the amount of $17,000.

Two days ago it is charged, he bought some land from C. D. Hillman, a Seattle real estate agent, offering a draft for $10,000 on the American Exchange National Bank of Dallas, Texas, and received in change, it is said, $5,000. This draft was found to be spurious. It is alleged that he worked three banks in Seattle yesterday. His procedure, the police say, was to deposit certified checks for collection and to draw out some cash on the basis of these checks.

TAFT TO TALK ON TARIFF TOPICS

Reciprocity and Arbitration Will Also Form Themes During Western Trip.

BEVERLY, Mass., Aug. 26.—President Taft will speak on the subjects on which he will speak on the Western trip next month. He told callers that the tariff, peace and arbitration, currency reform, reciprocity and conservation probably will form a nucleus for his speech-making.

He will make addresses on many other subjects but the topics named would make a sort of "big five" around which speeches that he deems less important might be made.

The position of Taft in regard to attempted tariff legislation at the special session and at the session that begins in December will furnish him with plenty of material.

The attitude of the Senate toward the arbitration treaties with Great Britain and France is expected to call forth more arguments for popular support.

EAST SIDE COUNTIES WANT STATE HIGHWAY

OROVILLE, Aug. 26.—At the September session of the board of supervisors a call will be issued for the counties upon the east side of the Sacramento river to hold a convention for the purpose of electing an organization to secure the expenditure of a part of the $18,000,000 fund for good roads within their borders. Butte, Yuba, Sutter and Placer counties are expected to be represented. The fact that the bulk of the population and the chief cities of the Sacramento valley are to be found upon the east side of the valley is given as one potent reason why the state highway should be built here.

COMMUTERS REGISTER OTHER SIDE OF BAY

Nearly one thousand voters who cast their ballots on this side of the bay at the last election have transferred their registration to San Francisco. The registration at the office of the county clerk continues at an average rate and it is expected that a goodly number will be added to the roll when the books close September 10.

Clawson, the total is $6,041,072, as compared with $5,993,382 last year. The corporation assessment amounts to $166,650. This reduces the city roll for taxation purposes to $5,874,422. The tax rate this year is $1.45.

A Drop of Blood

Or a little water from the human system when thoroughly tested by the chief chemist at Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., tells the story of impoverished blood—nervous exhaustion or some kidney trouble. Such examinations are made without cost and is only a small part of the work of the staff of physicians and surgeons under the direction of Dr. R. V. Pierce, giving the best medical advice possible without cost to those who wish to write and make a full statement of symptoms. An imitation of nature's method of restoring waste of tissue and impoverishment of the blood and nervous force is used when you take an alternative and glyceric extract of roots, without the use of alcohol, such as

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery

Which makes the stomach strong, promotes the flow of digestive juices, restores the lost appetite, makes assimilation perfect, invigorates the liver and purifies the blood, makes the great blood-maker, flesh-builder and restorative nerve tonic. It makes men strong in body, active in mind and cool in judgment. Get what you seek for!

The experiment was successful when tried last Memorial day in Philadelphia.

BIG OIL PLANT BEING ENLARGED

Standard Company Begins Work On Additions to Refinery

RICHMOND, Aug. 26.—The Standard Oil Company has begun the actual construction work on the enlargement of plant here, preparations for which have been going on for some time.

New shops, boilers, tanks and furnaces, to cost close to $1,000,000, are to be added to the present large refinery of the corporation, an improvement which will mean the employment of 500 additional men. This will bring the number of those engaged at the plant to about 2000.

The additional improvements are being erected on a sixty-acre tract recently acquired by the company, adjoining the plant of fifteen acres. The first building, which will house the shops, is now under construction, and will be completed within a few weeks. Work is to be started immediately on other buildings, including boiler and blacksmith shops. Three batteries of stills or refining plants of fifteen tons each, a battery, are to be included in the improvement. The output will probably be increased thirty per cent or more of the present capacity of the plant.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC TO ENTER SAN DIEGO

Arrangement Said to Have Been Effected With the Santa Fe Railroad.

SANTA BARBARA, Aug. 26.—Investigation here into the proposed sale of the local street car lines to the Southern Pacific developed the information that the Southern Pacific will shortly be allowed to enter the hitherto forbidden San Diego district.

The Santa Fe, it is said, was dubbed into the agreement by Judge Lovett when President Ripley proposed that the two share the Oregon timber and coal territory transportation plan.

The Southern Pacific has hitherto never been allowed nearer than 150 miles to San Diego. Ripley having secured that harbor, it is understood, declared to Lovett that his lines could not bear the burden of entering the Oregon territory alone and asked the Harriman lines to share the expense.

It sounds good to me, but I can never agree to the plan," declared Lovett, then brightening, he said: "Might it be if you will permit me to enter San Diego."

The deal, it is said, was closed. Millions will be involved.

TRUSTEES CALL BOND ELECTION

Richmond Board of Education Wants $150,000 for School Improvements.

RICHMOND, Aug. 26.—A bond election to vote $150,000 for the improvement of the city's schools was determined upon by the Board of Education at its meeting last night. October 7 is the date set for the election.

The necessity for the enlargement of the city's schools is imperative, due to the increase of pupils over last year. Many improvements were made for the accommodation of a greater number during the summer, but in spite of these the congestion is great. The money to be raised by the election is intended to be used in payment for the erection of an eight-room fireproof brick structure, to be used and occupied as a schoolhouse, and a twelve-room schoolhouse on Standard avenue. The amount will also include the purchase of a new school site opposite the Southern Pacific depot.

WORK TO BEGIN ON NEW AVENUE

Richmond Expects Much From the Construction of New Cutting Boulevard.

RICHMOND, Aug. 26.—Construction work on Cutting boulevard will begin on September 1, according to the announcement by the Board of Supervisors yesterday. This is made possible by the decision last Tuesday by Judge R. H. Latimer in the Superior Court favoring a grade crossing at the intersection of the boulevard with the Southern Pacific tracks. The question of damages due the railroad will be taken up by the judge first, and work will then immediately begin.

The construction of this street and its opening at the tracks is a matter of great importance to the development of the city. When completed the boulevard will be 110 feet wide, and will extend from the point eastward to Twenty-third street and on past the Pullman shops to San Pablo avenue. It will unite the two sections of town by a fine highway, and will extend on out into the territory which will be annexed to the city provided the present movement for the amalgamation of Pullman, Stege, Rust and other sections with Richmond is accomplished.

PUBLIC LIBRARY TILL IS ROBBED

Richmond Police Believe Crime Was Work of Boys Familiar With Place.

RICHMOND, Aug. 26.—Thieves broke into the Carnegie library, Fourth street and Nevin avenue, yesterday morning, and made off with the sum of $3 which had been left in a drawer of the librarian's desk. Entrance to the building was reached through a high window, which was reached by an awning over a side door of the building.

The thieves ransacked the librarian's desk, but took only the money and left behind many valuable prints, books and other equipment, which leads the police to believe that the robbery was committed by boys, or at all events, by non-professionals. The depredation was discovered by Peter Favre, the janitor, when he went to open the library in the morning, whereupon he at once notified Mrs. Whitbeck, the librarian, who called in the police. After a thorough examination, the officers discovered evidence which they believe will furnish clues to the guilty parties.

The Enemies of Reciprocity.

The farmers of No. 11 Broadway have changed the scene of their activities since Congress passed the reciprocity bill. While that measure was pending in Congress they made strenuous efforts to convince American farmers that reciprocity with Canada would ruin them. From the agricultural center which includes Wall and Broad streets and No. 26 Broadway they sent out warnings to the American farmers that Canadian agriculture was to be enriched by the destruction of their industry.

Now the Broadway farmers have changed their base of operations, they have also reversed their arguments. They are operating in Toronto, and are busy telling the Canadian farmers that reciprocity will ruin the farmers of the Dominion, that American agriculture and trusts will fatten on the destruction of agriculture in Canada. Having failed to avert ruin from the American farmer they are now striving to save the Canadian farmer.

It would be ungrateful to question the motives of these busy altruists, but nevertheless one may inquire why they are so solicitous about the welfare of the Canadian farmer when they were but a few weeks ago wailing about the calamity threatening the American farmer. Also why a measure that will ruin the American farmer will be equally calamitous to the Canadian farmer. Formerly they claimed that the importation of Canadian farm products into the United States free of duty would ruin American agriculture. Now they say the importation of American farm products into Canada free of duty will ruin Canadian agriculture.

There is a flaw in the argument somewhere. The argument addressed to the American farmers contradicts and refutes the argument now being addressed to the Canadian farmers. The American farmers were told that reciprocity with Canada would enrich the Canadian farmers at their expense. Now the Canadian farmers are being told that reciprocity will enrich American farmers and impoverish the agriculturists of Canada.

Putting aside this seeming contradiction, however, it is pertinent to inquire who is putting up the money to carry on this campaign of education. What influence started the propaganda from No. 11 Broadway, New York, in the interest of American farmers and then transferred it to Toronto, Canada, and made Canadian farmers the objects of its solicitude? Why have the champions of the American farmer suddenly become champions of the Canadian farmer? One may excuse faults of judgment, but it is not so easy to excuse, or even understand, such a complete change in sentiment and sympathy.

But, perhaps after all, the farmers formerly of No. 11 Broadway and now of Toronto, Canada, are not farmers at all, and have no concern about the interests of farmers on either side of the line. Is it not more likely that they represent certain big interests which desire to defeat reciprocity by any means that it can be accomplished? These interests had spokesmen in Congress and in the American press, and they have spokesmen in the Canadian Parliament and the Canadian press. Their object is to protect and perpetuate certain monopolies which reciprocity threatens to destroy. To achieve their end they are trying to delude and use the Canadian farmers as they tried to delude and use the American farmers. They are spending vast sums for a selfish purpose that is injurious to the masses in both Canada and the United States and Canada. Their whole campaign is one of fraud and deceit, as their arguments are addressed to ignorance and prejudice. They have no sympathy with farmers or anybody else, no patriotism, no regard for the public welfare; are, in short, nothing better than a band of monopoly pirates who are laboring to perpetuate a tariff graft by which they are amassing great fortunes.

That is the real meaning of the campaign conducted by the farmers of No. 11 Broadway against reciprocity. The alleged farmers are men who work the farmers, not the farms. Their business is to get all they can from any and everybody by any device by which people can be separated from their money. Freedom of trade between Canada and the United States interferes with their monopolies and hence they are fighting against it. They failed to humbug the people of the United States and now they are trying to humbug the people of Canada. Which explains their peculiar doubling.

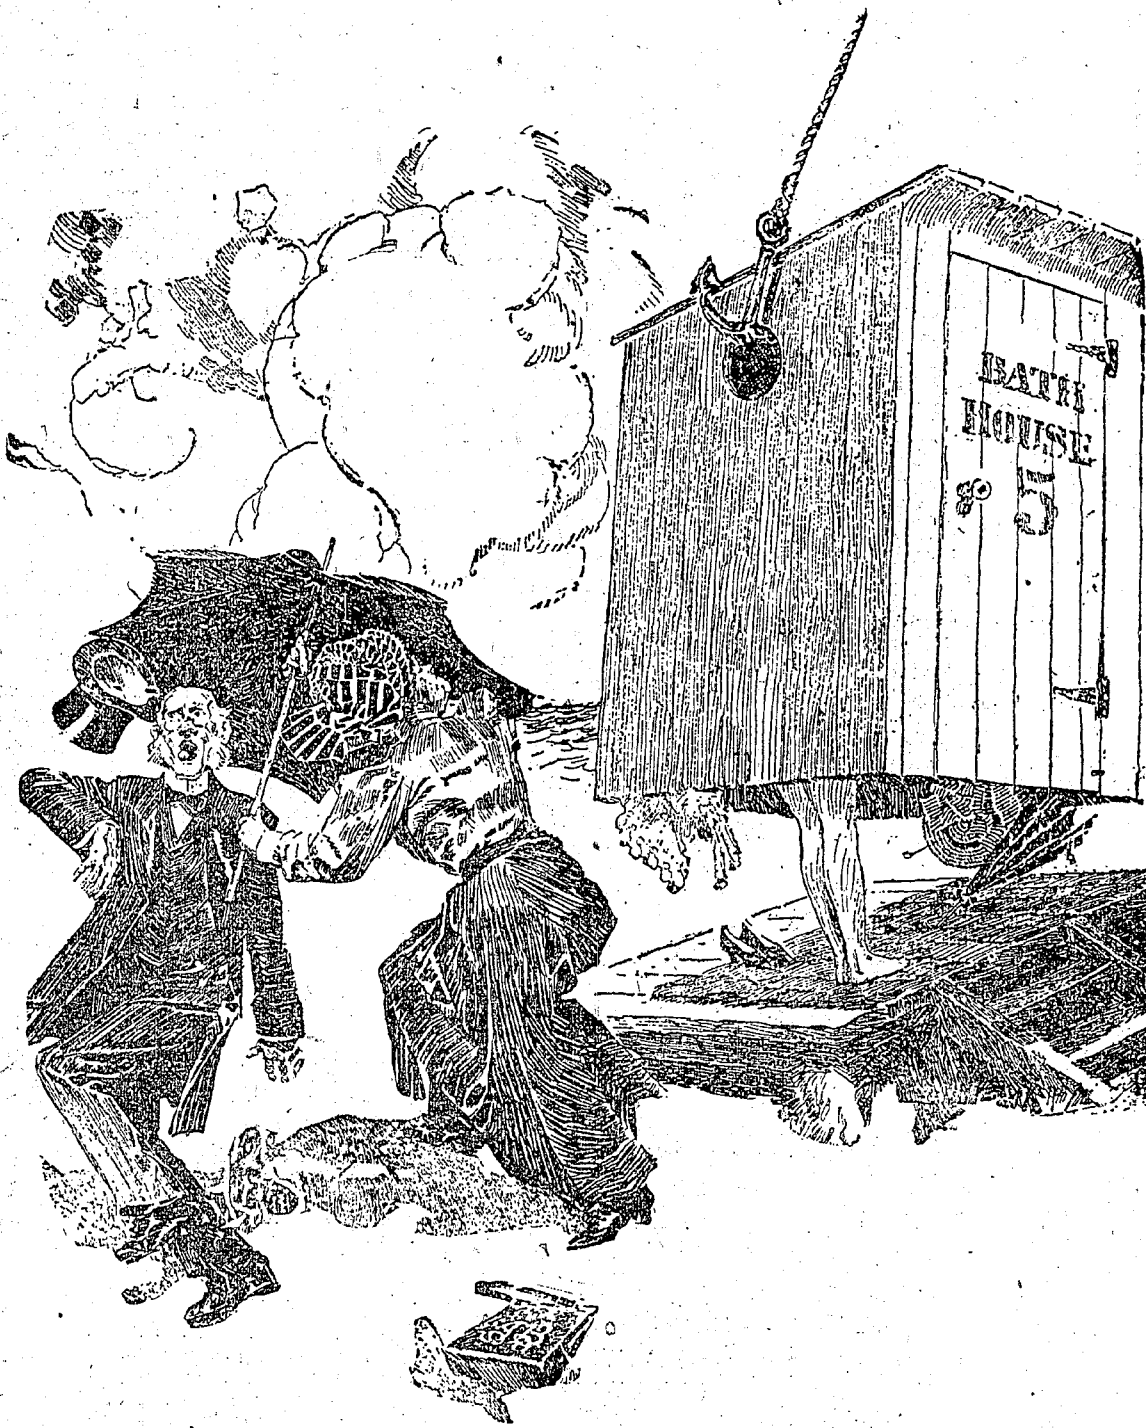

A Kansas judge has sentenced a woman to the chain-gang for immoral conduct. His judgment recalls one rendered in a similar case by Jesus of Nazareth. Perhaps this Kansas Dogberry never heard of Him. But if women are to be put in the chain-gang for such offenses why should men be exempt from like punishment? What is sauce for the goose is—or should be—sauce for the gander. The offense which this woman committed is always a dual one. The male accomplice is equally guilty with the female. Adam's excuse will not answer in this case.

Dr. Pardee's sore toe appears to be paining him again. The Enquirer seems anxious to bring on a general strike on the railroads.

The Municipal Contest in San Francisco.

The tremendous registration in San Francisco indicates unusual interest in the coming municipal election. The indications are that a very heavy vote will be cast at the primary election. The registration, which closes tonight, will be close to 100,000—the largest for a primary election in the history of the city. Only three candidates for Mayor will be in the field, Mayor McCarthy, James Rolph and the Socialist candidate. It is quite likely that the primary vote this year will exceed the total poll at the general election two years ago. The McCarthy and Rolph forces are well organized, and will poll every vote they can drum up. Both the Republican and the Democratic organizations are behind Rolph, who is also backed by the Merchants' Association and the so-called Good Government League, organized by Rudolph Spreckels and James D. Phelan. It is confidently predicted that the primary vote will run above 60,000. At the municipal election two years ago McCarthy received 29,455 votes, Dr. Leland (Democrat) 19,594, Crocker (Republican) 13,766 and McDewitt (Socialist) 1418. If the Socialist vote is not heavier this year than it was two years ago, a mayor is likely to be elected at the primary. At the last election McCarthy was opposed by Republican and Democratic candidates, but this year Rolph has the endorsement of both the old party organizations. However, party lines are completely broken down in the pending contest, the only compact organization, the Union Labor, element, being behind McCarthy. Both sides appear to be confident of victory, but the outcome is problematical, the estimates being largely governed by personal sympathies.

NOBODY IS SAFE NOWADAYS

Let Us Pray for Peace.

It should be the prayer of every good citizen that the railroad managers will come to an amicable understanding with their employees, and that the threatened strike will be averted. A general strike on the transcontinental railroads at this time would be peculiarly disastrous to the Pacific Coast.

A great tide of immigration and settlement is running this way, which would be checked and perhaps deflected by an interruption of railway traffic. Every interest on the coast would suffer. A suspension of building operations would naturally follow a transportation paralysis. The great irrigation and land reclamation plans for developing and settling up the State would be for a time disarranged, travel would be discontinued and land sales stopped.

All classes would feel the effect. A vast army of men would have to lie idle while the issue was being fought out and the attendant difficulties smoothed away. Enormous sums now being paid out for daily wages would be withheld from circulation, which would cause immediate hardship and money scarcity.

The blow would fall heaviest on those least able to withstand it. Inevitably it is those who have the smallest reserves laid by that suffer most and suffer soonest in the event of gigantic conflicts between labor and capital. Hence humanity unites with self-interest in appealing for a settlement which will allow the wheels of industry to keep running. We trust the leaders on both sides will be guided in their conferences by a spirit of fairness and justice, and a sense of the heavy responsibilities resting upon them.

Not so many years ago we used to shudder with horror when reading of Indians burning whites at the stake in the early colonizing days. Now we give only a passing comment when the newspapers chronicle the burning of a negro by whites. Is civilization going forward or backward? The burning of human beings is barbarism pure and simple; moreover, it is in defiance of law and every teaching of humanity and Christianity. Yet nobody is ever punished for committing these savage barbarities. It is to be noted the last three cases of negro burning occurred in Northern States. The practice seems to be becoming popular in States where it was formerly regarded with horror.

The maiden ladies who are in such a stew over the conditions existing at the Oakland city prison are residents of Berkeley. With this fact before us we can properly appreciate their neighborly interest in our affairs.

The corruption of the English language goes merrily on. The newspapers are alluding to a woman farmer as a farmerette. Women who want the ballot are classified into suffragettes, suffragettes and suffragines, and culture is now a word in common use. By and by we shall not be surprised to hear the pant of a puppy described as a pantalette and the shirtwaist spoken of as a shirtlet and the wearer described as a shirttaillette. Thus the world moves and speech improves.

John Jacob Astor's second marriage and Jack Geraghty's elopement with an heiress have quite obscured Jack Johnson, but Harry Thaw still manages to break into the news columns at least once a week. Have the newspapers had too much Johnson, or do they think it about time to apply the recall in his case?

Governor Johnson promptly honored the requisition of the Governor of Indiana for the return of James Hosick, a detective, indicted on a charge of kidnaping John McNamara. He was not so ready, however, to honor the requisition made by the Governor of Oregon for the return of a bank-wrecker who had settled in San Diego and turned reformer in California. However, his excellency's fine discrimination will doubtless be applauded by J. Dalzell Brown.

Twenty Years Ago Today

M. J. Keller, president of the Board of Trade, called that organization to order last evening. A number of new firms made application for membership, among them being Phelan & Fish, Ham Coleman, T. A communication from the San Jose Chamber of Commerce was read asking the assistance of the local body in encouraging the proposed railroad between the two cities.

The struggle for the lucrative appointment of police court stenographer becomes more and more interesting. In addition to Frank P. Thwaites, Tom Darling and John Allen, the Superior Court reporters Whitson, Riley and Darnell are trying hard to secure the position.

The Oakland members of the California Society of Pioneers enjoyed a banquet in the council chambers last evening. Among those present were: Joseph Stewart, George H. Fogg, Edwin A. Sherman, Mr. and Mrs. Erastus Kelso, Mr. and Mrs. Fred E. Low, M. De la Montahya, Mrs. E. A. Sherman, Edwin A. Sherman, Jr., E. A. Hodgkins, Miss C. Gardner, Mrs. Whidden, Mrs. Laura B. Either Kadell Olsen of Minneapolis, who has asked the court to change her name to Esther Kadell Smith, says she wants to be known by the name of Smith to identify herself, as it is a less common name in Minneapolis than Olsen. Why does the young lady bother the court instead of getting married?

A Chicago P.H.D. who has invented a process for making paper non-porous, says he believes that within a year food put up in tin cans will be hard to find in the market. He has made a pair out of a newspaper, by painting the paper with a preparation costing about half a cent, and then pasting it over an ordinary pair for a mold. Cottonseed oil, he says, is the hardest liquid to pack, and will leak even from soldered tins, but he is proving now in experiments made for a large Chicago corporation that his paper receptacles will hold it. Oakland Looking For Its Future

The city of Oakland is anticipating the day when the Panama Canal will be completed and a great impetus given the shipping industry on the Pacific Coast. John Barrett, director general of the Pan-American Union, during his recent visit to Oakland, said that he knew of no city anywhere which is making preparations on a more extensive scale than Oakland to accommodate the increased commerce that will come to the state upon the completion of the canal. While Barrett is reputed to be considerable of a "hot air merchant" there is no doubt but what his praise of Oakland in this regard was well deserved. Here are some of the things Oakland is doing: Expanding $2,500,000 on a quay wall on the inner harbor where the United States government is completing a channel thirty feet in depth at low tide and 500 feet in width, along which a belt railroad is to be built connecting directly with fire-proof warehouses, and also with industrial enterprises along Oakland's twenty-seven miles of water front, which will be absolutely under municipal control, planning on establishing an excellent system of warehouses and docks. These facts are set forth in an interesting letter written by A. A. Denison, secretary of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce, to the Sacramento Bee. Representatives of several of the large steamship companies are said to be watching with interest developments at Oakland. It is not unlikely, in fact it is extremely probable, that in the not distant future San Francisco will have a strong rival for shipping honors across the bay. Oakland has been going ahead at a great rate for the past five years and her energetic citizens are planning and building a great city in the near future.—Vladis Times.

ATLANTA'S OPEN AIR SCHOOLS

One of the greatest discoveries of the present decade is air. Men have learned that life means breath and that abundant breathing is one of the secrets of health and success. We are putting more windows in our houses, and what is still more gratifying, in our factories and offices. Ventilation is to be counted among the truly great reforms. Especially interesting is the fact that the philosophy of fresh air is being applied to our educational methods. In many parts of the North and East, and in Europe, open air schools have ceased to be novelties. But the first school of this kind in the South is to be established this autumn in Atlanta. This is something of which this city should be proud, for it indicates that we have caught the stride of progress, and it will open a vital opportunity to the children. The Atlanta open-air school will be conducted under the auspices of members of the North Avenue Presbyterian Church. Its classes will be held out of doors throughout the term, except, of course, when the weather conditions render this impossible. It will, furthermore, inaugurate shorter hours of instruction and will lay particular emphasis upon physical training. In all these respects it will be a distinctive addition to the city's school facilities. It is a matter of record that open-air teaching is a wonderful tonic to the minds and bodies of delicate children and is a valuable thing for those who are sturdy. Under this system children are predisposed to throat and lung diseases have been permanently cured without having to discontinue their studies. One hour of instruction in the open air counts for more than double the time in a room. It is believed that this method will become increasingly popular, and certainly there is no section where it can be applied with more ease and comfort than in the South.—Atlanta Journal.

TREATIES THAT OPEN ERA

Peace and good will for a large part of the earth are assured by the historic, epoch-making treaties that were signed yesterday on behalf of England, France and the United States. Cynics may sneer and doubters may shake their heads, but not even the Moroccan war clouds and the alleged aggressive grabbing of territory contemplated by Germany will cause the earnest and progressive lovers of peace and arbitration to abate an iota of their claim as to the value and moral or practical effect of these unprecedented treaties. They spell sobriety and reason in international relations. They are, as President Taft says, self-denying ordinances. Just as constitutions and national courts prevent internecine strife, so will these all-embracing treaties, with the agencies set up by them, prevent strife and waste of life and treasure in international affairs. The omission of the usual exemption clause, the implied and natural assumption that every controversy, no matter how vital it may be, is susceptible of arbitration, the recognition of the fact that civilized and reasonable nations, like civilized and reasonable individuals, can settle even questions of honor without resort to fists and deadly weapons are far from being empty, hollow pretensions. They mark genuine moral and intellectual advance in statesmanship, and they will be cause of further advance. Other nations will follow the example, and reductions of armaments must be nearer realization.

President Taft's candor and healthy sense in intimating that he personally could see no objection to unlimited arbitration planted the seed that has now borne such remarkable fruit. Secretary Knox shares with him the credit for the splendid achievement, but the nations across the ocean who so promptly responded to the significant, "idealistic" suggestion has also, and almost in the same degree, earned the gratitude of the industrious, toiling, thrifty masses and the thinking, justice-loving citizenship of the whole world.

When a man tells a widow that she is the only woman he ever loved she takes it with a pound of salt.

GOSSIP FROM SAN FRANCISCO WEEKLIES

Society Is Studying French

Society women are undertaking the study of French. Mrs. Eleanor Martin having essayed the language a couple of years ago, her advice is being asked for on all sides. The lady admits losing herself in the conjugations and requiring English to find her way out. But she knows something about it at that, and made excellent use of the late Bernhardt performances. The young ladies with whom she associates, however, are not so patient. They expect to learn the language in one day and meet their Prince the next. But while the latter part of it may be easy, the language is not. It is even difficult to imitate Boston, as is often apparent. A bad French accent, on the whole, is much preferable. Miss Innes Keeney and Miss Genevieve King were talking it over the other day at a certain social function at which Ernest Richman was present.

Remarked Miss Keeney: "But why French? I hate the language. Why not Spanish? Society might take it up just as well—and it is the language of love."

"You should remember, my dear," suggested the hostess, "that Dr. Genthe is not in town."

"Well, Naboo O'Neil is."

"I forgot about that; he is likely coming,"—News Letter.

Busy Santa Barbara

There is always something doing at Santa Barbara—winter and summer. They had a great time over the raising of the Elmore road fund, for which $50,000 was needed. They required $1000 of that sum last week, and it was made up by the group of energetic society people working in co-operation with Miss Jane McLaren, Mrs. Louis Jones, and Mrs. Milo M. Potter. The entertainment at the Potter Theater for the benefit of the fund was very successful. Miss Nina Jones essayed a Spanish dance, a rather hazardous venture for any American girl. It is conceded, however, that Miss Jones fairly won all the applause and the bouquets that were given her. Mrs. William Frew of Pittsburg, a daughter of Dr. and Mrs. C. C. Fark of Montecito, took part in a flower dance, her partner being Garnier Hammond. Miss Mabel Cunnane and William Mayo Newhall Jr. appeared in a dance of Old Castle. Miss Lou Wilson appeared in a cafe scene as a Cuban signorita, the whole stage being filled with actors and actresses drawn from society, each doing an appropriate cafe stunt. Altogether the affair was full of go.

The marriage of Miss Louise McCormick and Robert Henderson is now definitely set for the first week of November. They will live in San Francisco. Miss McCormick, who has been a guest of Mrs. Edithman Sutton, has rejoined her mother at Paso Robles.—The Wasp.

Mrs. Miller Graham's Latest

So Mrs. William Miller Graham is taking lessons in acting from Arnold Daly. This interests me. I am in favor of that sort of thing. In the first place, Mrs. Miller Graham may have unusual talent for the stage and the best way to find out if this is so, is for her to take lessons and then appear in public, though not necessarily as a professional. If she appears in theatricals in London, she will speedily learn whether or not she has ability. If she makes a hit, she will be importuned to accept professional engagement. I doubt whether she would consent, but if she did the stage might be enriched by the addition of a good actress. Society amateurs have sometimes, though not often, succeeded as professionals. Lots of people would consider it a calamity for a woman of Mrs. Graham's charm to give up a social life for a stage career. But not I. The life of an actress is much more useful than that of a woman who cultivates leisure as a career. Even if Mrs. Miller Graham does not develop much talent, she will nevertheless be in demand for charity theatricals when Arnold Daly has finished his course of instruction. When she returns to California our busy San Francisco aristocrats will be anxious to enjoy her services. Thus she will take place in the society of our parish, something which she has not done as yet. Altogether, there is reason to congratulate Mrs. Miller Graham on her present course.—Town Talk.

Ankles Were So Pretty

In the lobby of the St. Francis, one day this week, a charming lady sat with an even more charming pair of feet and ankles outstretched. You could never believe them to be the ankles of a suffragist, any more than you could imagine her ever acquiring more power than pertained to her pretty features, but you would have been mistaken had you thought these things. For on both silken stockings about the pretty ankle was interwoven a delicate gray stain: Votes for women, votes for women. And she sat there as demurely unconscious of the men who stared at her, who passed and came back to stare at her, as any professional ingenue making a business of innocence and the footlights. Because the ankles were so pretty, it was the best sort of advertising in the world. The blase St. Francis wakened up to her with a jerk. She was pointed out from dim corners, and, with an assumed manner of carelessness, men stealthily glanced over to behold. Then District Attorney Pickert entered, fresh from the glory of the San Mateo raid, smiled upon the fair creature, shook hands with her, and, to the envy of every one else, sank in a chair beside her. At length he noticed the stockings. She even held them up for his better inspection. Quite a lift to the cause to convert a District Attorney, surely, and, under the circumstances, would it be so difficult? The District Attorney did not need glasses.

"I suppose," she said, so that one or two others overheard, "that you consider this a low-down method of advertising."

Pickert was quick with his reply, which was not exactly that of a District Attorney. "Well, of course, it would please me more if it were higher-up," he admitted.—News Letter.

Lesson In Simplicity

San Francisco is having an object lesson in girlish simplicity. We are apt students in the arts and sciences, but when it comes to the sartorial creed we have always refused to be orthodox. Possibly it is because our whimsical climate encourages such whimsies in dress as a fur boa with a summer silk costume. There is legitimate excuse for this idiosyncrasy. But there is one sin for which I can find no explanation, and that is the extravagance in dress of very young girls.

The funny felle does not exist anywhere in America in the same state of ignorance and simplicity that she is found in France. But we have plenty of proof that elsewhere in America she is not permitted to abandon herself to suggestive clothes to the same extreme that she does in San Francisco. There are two representative Western families in this city, the Charles Alexanders of New York and the family of Governor Foss of Boston. The other day the Foss girls were having luncheon with their mother at the Fairmont. The girls, I take it, are none of them more than half-past twenty, and they were dressed in the simplest tailcoats with lingerie blouses. They all have short blonde hair, which was prettily dressed without the help of false colors and puffs.

Into the dining room came half a dozen girls of our representative society. They were the guests of a young girl whose people live at the hotel. It was an informal luncheon, and the girls were going down town afterward to wander through the shops. In comparison with the Boston simplicity they looked trapped out for vaudeville. But such is the difference in our standards that I heard one of our girls say: "Isn't it too bad that those Boston girls never know how to dress?"

Practically the same criticism has been made of the Alexanders girls. They wear the simplest frock in the street, and their evening gowns are exquisitely charming, without in the least suggesting the subtleties of the confidential clothes of this epoch. The other night they made a bewitching picture in the adorable gowns the great Parisian modistes plan for young girls—soft, lovely things—in pastel shades, not over-decorated and not sinuously draped. A young girl who has a glorious figure and exploits it with clothes that are as daring in color as cut stood near. Her black hair was done in a succession of round coils, and from the one over each ear depended stunning jewels. The flat part of the head was bound in a broad jeweled band of Oriental texture. She made a stunning picture to be sure, but she could have stepped into a masquerade ball without changing her costume. She looked at the Alexanders girls a moment, and then whispered to her neighbor: "Isn't it strange that the Alexanders, with all their money, haven't any style?"

The Eastern people are, of course, too well bred to comment about the way our young girls abandon themselves to riot of color and "revealed" lines. But a great many of our own conservative people are commenting adversely, and before long they will be swinging back a bit. For example, one of the fashionable private schools in this city has turned into a number of prize pupils. When the principal interviewed the parents, one mother was sane and frank enough to say: "I think that I am largely responsible, for I have complained to all my friends who send their girls to your school that the girls are allowed to make such vulgar display in dress that the whole atmosphere is charged with clothes talk; there is plenty of time for that sort of thing after school days."

The reform must necessarily start in the private schools, and evidently it has set in that direction.—News Letter.

Social Notables at Newport

Mrs. Hermann Oelrichs gave a large dinner at Newport on Monday evening, and later took her guests to a dance given at the Golf Club by Mr. and Mrs. George McFadden.

The Californians of importance at Newport this season are the Oden Mills. The Earl and Countess came over from England two weeks ago to join the Countess, Mr. and Mrs. Ogden Mills and Mrs. Phipps went in their steam yacht to New York to meet the Earl. Mrs. Mills was a Miss Livingstone of the noted New York family of that time. When she first came to California local society held her in awe, as nobody could hope to match pedigrees and few could match purses with such a grande dame. What this daughter of New York's old aristocracy thought of local society has never transpired. A noted San Francisco lawyer and clubman who had visited New York was invited to dine at the Oden Mills mansion. He related that fact on his return to San Francisco, and was regarded by the women of his set as a superior being from another world. His wife shone by his reflected social light, though when the women got together in a corner after dinner to exchange confidences they used to comfort one another with the assurance that the illustrious lawyer's wife would not have got an invitation had she been with him in Gotham. We men will talk.—The Wasp.

Barrister Daniell's Nemesis

The London society newspapers announce that Colonel and Mrs. J. A. Darling, accompanied by Miss Hastings, had left London and were stopping at Southport for a week before leaving for Italy. Mrs. Darling has not doubt paid attention to Barrister Daniell while in England. She has been the Nemesis of that gentleman since he started out to control the fortune of Miss Hastings, the niece of Mrs. Darling. In Judge Graham's court recently the case attracted much attention. There was some mystery as to the whereabouts of young Miss Hastings in England. Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Maud, the son-in-law and daughter of Mrs. Darling, are also in Europe, and have been visiting Bishop Maud and other relatives. The Mauds will return to California next month. By the way, a bishop in the Old World is "some pumpkins" in the ranks of wealth and fashion. Some English bishop has living worth $20,000 a year.—The Wasp.

A 'Green Knight' Cartoon

If you hear loud guffaws in the neighborhood of 50,000 francs. Such loans that the Jolly Bohemians are laughing their heads off over Randall Borough's grove play cartoon. Borough is one of the ablest of our younger artists and has made many fine posters; but it is generally admitted that he found in Garnett's "Green Knight" book, the inspiration for his funniest work so far. Last year, after Charles Field's "Cave Man" was presented in Bohemian Grove, Arthur Putnam, the sculptor, made a statue of the Cave Man for the club. He showed the aboriginal brute sitting on a stump and scratching his shaggy head in perplexity over the fire he has accidentally kindled. For his cartoon Borough took this cave man, sat him on the same old stump and showed him scratching his head in the same old perplexity. But the cave man is attired in tight fitting English clothes, with a derby pushed back on his head, patent leather pumps and lavender socks. He is holding—Garnett's book! And trying to figure out what Garnett is driving at. Underneath this picture is the legend, "Stumped! In the endeavor to consider some of its architectural elements in their esthetic and technical aspects," these being a few words from Garnett's terrible introduction. The artist adds a footnote: "This polychromatic drawing is due according to the new 'art form.' An acknowledgment must be made here to Mr. Isaac O. Upham and Mr. Arthur Putnam without whose co-operation this gem of art would not be possible." When anybody asks anybody else what that word "polychromatic" means, the answer is invariably the same: "Ask Garnett; he makes a specialty of big words." And then there are more guffaws.—Town Talk.

Not Eagle But Stork

Teddy Roosevelt Jr., is at last a happy father. We say "at last" because it was reported of Teddy before. However, our newspapers are in the habit of creating many things. To see the smile on Teddy's face these days, one might imagine it was a boy. But it is really a little girl. Hearst took a day off reading Hearst criticisms of his career in order to grasp the full happiness of it. But no one could be quite so happy as Teddy, Jr. Coming down the street the morning after, the exultant father met the manager of the St. Francis.

"Hello," chimed Woods; "you must be entertaining Eagles these days, you appear so joyous."

"The stork for mine," replied Teddy, succinctly.—News Letter.

Downey Harvey's Bankruptcy

J. Downey Harvey's appearance in the role of a bankrupt was much regretted generally, as Mr. Harvey had not deserved the fate which has befallen him by his venture as a railroad builder. When Mr. Harvey projected the Ocean Shore Railroad it was looked upon as a fine scheme to develop a rich country. Unfortunately, it was started at the wrong time, and when the financial pinch came Mr. Harvey could not float the necessary bonds. One of the immense advantages which the late E. H. Harriman enjoyed as a railroad builder was that he could get the money on an issue of bonds before they found a market. His banking friends in New York could always find the ready cash for him. It was not necessary to throw bonds upon the market and sacrifice them, as was done by the Ocean Shore people when they found themselves between the horns of a dilemma. Mr. Harvey inherited about a million dollars from his relatives, and could have lived in comfort like many other idle rich people who he preferred indolence to the strenuous life of a capitalist of industry. He had business experience, too, because he was for years the agent of his uncle, the late Governor Downey of Los Angeles, who had been Governor of this State in early days. He is related to the Baron von Schroeder family, his mother being Mrs. Eleanor Martin. He is a half brother of Peter and Walter Martin. While Mr. Downey Harvey's ventures have made havoc with his personal fortune, his mother possesses a very large and valuable estate.—The Wasp.

Mrs. Graham's Stage Training

Local society was interested in the cable news from London, that Mrs. Miller-Graham, Santa Barbara's most celebrated society woman, has arranged to take a course of lessons in acting from Arnold Daly. It is not intimated that she has any desire to go on the stage. She has a grown son, which fact of itself would tend to preclude any such arrangement. Mrs. Graham, no doubt, desires to be more notable in amateur entertainments, in which line she has already distinguished herself. Dramatic training also gives poise—something with which comparatively few people are overstocked. Lack of poise is a charge brought against our society women by both English and French critics. In Santa Barbara they think nobody can compare with Mrs. Miller-Graham, and no doubt after the Arnold-Daly course of study and her experience gained in the London smart set she will be more than ever in a class by herself as an accomplished hostess. Mrs. Graham has made all his money in oil. Arnold Daly is the actor manager who introduced Bernard Shaw to American playgoers. He made no fortune on the enterprise.—The Wasp.

Lost Their Moorings

San Francisco possesses more than its share of people ready to follow in any procession like a flock of sheep till all go over the precipices together. Because some venerated hoodlums, whose fathers left them too much money, behave like drunken sailors ashore, people to whom these roystering spells social eminence think they must also glitter in the lights of the Barbary Coast and the disreputable beach resorts. All those people seem to have completely lost their social moorings and got befooled on the ordinary propinquities of life.—The Wasp.

Prince Tati Is Coming

Prince Tati is coming. It just may be that you never heard of the Prince, but do not admit, or it will be understood that you do not belong to society. And it is not the habit of society to forgive any one for anything who does not belong to it. The Prince Tati comes from Tahiti, where there are so many pretty Creoles. Consequently, he will be hard to please. Besides, his sister is a queen, and all of his ancestors as far back as he can count were princes and kings before him. He may be looking for a wife or he may not. At any rate, mademoiselles of the local society have pricked their ears to the news of his advent. Though a South Sea Islander and educated in Europe, there is nothing cannibalistic in his ardent. His temperament is Latin, but it is said that he does not sing. He has been reported engaged in several places in the world, which means that he is something of a philanderer, which means again that he should be generally popular with the ladies. Besides, there is his title. In Los Angeles, it appears, they think differently about such things. Miss Michelle Le Grand, a pretty telephone operator at the Haywards Hotel, visited Paris for two months with her aunt, where she met Prince Eugene Arlemere Du Bois, son of one of the most famous families of France. The Prince fell deeply in love with her, and is now on his way to Los Angeles. The lady says that he will never win it, that she dislikes noblemen and loves Los Angeles, etc. Perhaps she means it, and perhaps she doesn't. But should she persist in giving the Prince the cold shoulder, this journal is ready to medallize her as the finest sample of California heroine. For did not even our own Virgilia, the fair, cold, scornful queen of the Portola festival, fall for such "connections," having first written a book about it, extensively advertised and little read. Others have gone the same of climbing colzae. In New York, indeed, it had become a sort of spring medicine.

Consequently, if the little telephone operator in Los Angeles proves strong enough to pooh-pooh the infection, she must be an aristocrat in her own right. That is the only way it is worth having. Mademoiselle, here's to you!—News Letter.

On the Qui Vive

Residents of the fashionable hotels and society in general are in expectation of an interesting announcement relative to one of the belles of San Francisco and a noted oil magnate whose wife received an interlocutory decree of divorce last June on the discreet grounds of desertion. Friends and critics alike admit that the Titian-haired young lady who now exercises full authority over the oil magnate's splendid touring car, and goes shopping therein, may be considered a beauty in a city famous for its handsome women. Her fine and well-cultivated soprano voice adds to the beautiful young lady's accomplishments. Some guests in the Hotel St. Francis have been getting up every morning before breakfast for a newspaper to scan the society columns for the much-looked-for announcement.—The Wasp.

Bachelor Colony Breaking Up

One of the evening papers of San Francisco publishes the rumor that Miss Helen Chesebrough and Phillip Wegcott, both of whom are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Marowitz (Violet Westcott), will announce their betrothal before returning to San Francisco from Santa Barbara. The rumor occasioned quite a stir in this city among the bachelor colony on Pacific avenue, with headquarters at Dr. W. S. Thorne's residence, where a number of the gay blades keep house. One of the popular members of this colony, Robert Keiderson, has already fallen victim to Cupid. His engagement to Miss Louise McCormick has been announced.—The Wasp.

Different in California

A correspondent of one of the great New York dailies sent a special telegram from Rangley, Maine, the other day, recounting the wonderful angling exploits of E. Napier of Orange, N. J., one of the Fish and Game Commissioners of New Jersey. The disciple of old East Walton landed in one day and "after a hard fight, as handsome a trio of salmon as anyone could wish to capture." The largest of this handsome trio was 9 1/2 pounds, the smallest 5 pounds. Another astonishing feat was the capture of an 8-pound salmon by an intrepid angler, who actually did the deed alone and unaided. He also was from New Jersey. A New Yorker beat them all, for this brave man landed three tremendous Maine salmon, when rowing his boat alone. The largest monster was 6 pounds. The blithesome California belles that enjoy the summer at Del Monte, and sometimes go out on Monterey bay fishing with their brothers, cousins and other people, think it just child's play to pull in a couple of 30-pound salmon before breakfast. A Maine salmon would feel like a shrimp on their lines.—The Wasp.

Recovering Rapidly

Great sympathy has been expressed for Mr. and Mrs. Walter Martin on account of the serious accident to their little daughter, Mary, who was thrown from her pony and received such serious injuries on her head that the operation of trepanning had to be performed. I hear that the little one was unconscious when the piece of bone which pressed upon the brain had been raised. The friends of the family are delighted to hear that the sufferer is on the fair way to recovery. Mrs. Eleanor Martin, her grandmother, was greatly affected by the news of the unfortunate accident. The pony from which the little girl fell was the gift of Miss Jennie Crocker. Dr. Tracy G. Russell, one of the surgeons who was called in to perform the delicate operation on the sufferer's head is a great friend of the noted heiress. He is a popular bachelor. Dr. T. W. Huntington was the other surgeon.—The Wasp.

An Oil Magnate's Bungalow

Old residents of San Francisco who remember San Francisco as it was long before the fire pay particular attention to the new improvement in that once fashionable neighborhood, and now fashionable club and apartment house district. Upon the site of the old Senator Fair house, where Miss Tassie Fair was married to Hermann Oelrichs with great pomp and ceremony in the "eighties," Oil Magnate Hanford is erecting one of the finest bungalows on the peninsula. The appointments are most luxurious, and rumor has it that the multimillionaire owner will make the place his San Francisco residence. He already owns a fine place on Russian Hill, which has scarcely ever been occupied. The second Mrs. Hanford (Miss Gabrielle Guitard, daughter of the spice merchant) did not quite like the arrangement of the mansion.—The Wasp.

The Chapman-Foss Wedding

Society was concentrated in the small edifice of Grace Cathedral on Wednesday for the Chapman-Foss nuptials. The crowd overflowed the church and stood on the steps where the only sight they had of the bride was as she entered, and left the church. Dainty Miss Chapman never looked prettier than in her wedding finery. Her delicate Titian coloring was well set off by the fleecy clouds of her tulle veil and the white satin gown draped with rare old lace worn by her mother when she became a bride. Mrs. Chapman looked young and handsome at the wedding and it was difficult to realize she was a grandmother. Her son Robert Graygrange, whose father she married when very young, has two children. He lives on his estate in England. Mrs. Chapman is the only daughter of the late William Sherwood who built a handsome home on Nob Hill facing the Crocker mansion. Young Graygrange inherited a fortune from his father. He and his wife were unable to come to the wedding but sent handsome gifts to swell the collection of silver and jewels which Mrs. Foss will take to her new home in Boston.

Young Foss presented his bride with a limousine which was left in Boston awaiting her arrival. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sharon sent heavy silver candlesticks of handsome design and there were three complete silver tea sets. Miss Henriette Blandine was the most admired figure in the bridal party next to the bride. Her costume was a Parisian creation of exquisite lace and her white-tail laden with jewels was vastly becoming. She is the bride's closest friend, the two having been room-mates at school and at first it was intended they should go to Vassar together but Miss Chapman decided to make her debut instead. The costumes of white crystal dotted chiton with dainty pink tulle hats were becoming to the bevy of youthful bridesmaids of whom, by many, Miss Florence Williams was voted the prettiest, as she was at the Whitney-Stillman wedding earlier in the summer. Among prominent guests were the Charles Alexanders of New York. Mrs. Hattie Crocker Alexander looks younger than on her last visit and with her three daughters attracted great attention. The reception at the Century Club was largely attended, the hall being chosen owing to limited space at the Chapman residence and the wish of the bride to have all her friends present as she is going East to live. One of her intimate friends is Mrs. W. E. Dassonville who eloped last year with the well known camera artist. She was Miss Gertrude Perry and with her husband was a guest at the wedding.—Town Talk.

The Slumming Craze

The Wasp has frequently called attention to the passion for slumming which seems to have obsessed a great many prosperous people in San Francisco. They crowd the Tenderloin restaurants and the places on the ocean beach where the wretches of the night life rendezvous. They shout ragtime songs, cavort around in ragging dresses, and conduct themselves generally like a lot of cowboys at a frontier hurdy-gurdy.—The Wasp.

Monument to Good Intentions

Hillsborough, of which Fair Oaks is becoming a rival, has at last accomplished something to its decorations of lovers' lanes and tersely-worded placards forbidding intrusive San Mateosites. It has added a real schoolhouse, though for what purpose it was built has not been fully decided as yet. But at any rate it is a schoolhouse—indeed, it is a standing joke for visiting costermongers—for no one has ever yet seen a child come out of it. That is no fault of the schoolhouse, however. Whenever a Hillsborough lady passes it, she sighs. Whenever a Hillsborough gentleman passes it, he lowers his eyes. For when the rain falls at Hillsborough, there is never the sound of pattering, small, bare feet, happy, childish laughter and the making of mud pies. Everything is perfectly up-to-date and according to the latest fashions. To its decorations of lovers' lanes and in vain about things that were none of his business, and were more vulgarly a matter of form at home. And should he arrive in Hillsborough at any time while it lasts, he will find there another white elephant for his trained cannon. Or, should he prefer to use a pen, there are lots of them in the schoolhouse, where all ghosts walk, and the blackboard is always black. However, we would not make a jest of anyone's misfortune. Hillsborough built the schoolhouse and would probably fill it if it could. Our principal regret is that others do not seem to hold the same point of view. We refer particularly to a chauffeur who drove Franklin K. Lane of the Interstate Commerce Commission through Hillsborough the other day. These gentry are so unconcerned in such matters, perhaps because they sometimes develop into affluents and joint owners of their machines.

Inquired Lane, who, having heard of Hillsborough, was endeavoring to take in the sights: "Is that a schoolhouse across the way?"

"That is what it was meant for, sir," replied the chauffeur.

"And isn't it one?"

"No; it's a monument to good intentions."—News Letter.

The Center of Attraction

Miss Rebecca Kruttschnitt and her fiancé, Henry Clifford Woodhouse, have been the guests of Miss Kathleen de Young at her home in San Rafael, and the engaged young couple have been the center of attraction at all midsummer festivities. Miss Kruttschnitt has a personality unique among girls who have never known any responsibility save that of making themselves proficient in the ways and wiles of society. Miss Rebecca has never taken society seriously, but she did take "her art" seriously, and intended to spend several years in Dresden when she finished at the Chicago Art Institute. She has already done some illustrating for books and periodicals, notably a book written by Mrs. Fairbanks.

When she came to San Francisco to act as bridesmaid at the wedding of Miss Copeland de Young and Joseph Oliver Tobin, she assured the matchmakers that she never intended to play any other role than that of bridesmaid at a wedding. She swore by all the signs and symbols of Art that she would be a calligrapher, as married women could never give their best selves to their careers. And the matchmakers, who usually take such statements with a teaspoonful of salt, never even used the proverbial grain. They actually believed her and erased her from their calculation.

But Santa Barbara air worked wonders in Miss Rebecca's artistic temperament, with the result that three weeks after she met young Woodhouse they were engaged, and instead of waiting until the family was re-established in their Chicago home, this young woman, forsworn to celibacy, permitted Mrs. Harriet Patterson Miller to give a dinner in her honor and announce the engagement. Santa Barbara is used to "dole far niente" couplets, and this rapid-fire action, culminating in an announcement, has stirred the lethargic romanticists down there, who easily acquire the manana method in the Southern clime. From the first it was evident that Miss Rebecca was not going to be a summer girl, but an all-the-year-round. The speed with which the engagement was announced broke the record, and the wedding is to run on the same fast schedule—20th Century Limited Time.—News Letter.

The Days of Gold

R. D. Fry, whose petition in bankruptcy is interesting Julius Raphael and other depositors of the defunct California Safe Deposit and Trust Company, is the son of the late Col. J. D. Fry, who was a leading stockholder in the days when fortunes were made in a day in mining country. The Fry family own a mansion opposite the old Talbot residence. Mrs. Sallie Fry, the widow of the late Colonel, still occupies the family residence. Her only heir is R. D. Fry.

In early days in San Francisco R. D. Fry and his wife, who had been Miss Agnes Luning, were notable figures in fashionable society. Miss Luning was the oldest daughter of Nicholas Luning, one of the best known multimillionaires of San Francisco. Mr. Luning had several daughters. One of the Misses Luning married George Whittell, a leading capitalist. A second daughter married Colonel Fife. Another Miss Luning married Mr. Cunningham of Cunningham, Curtis & Welch, and after his death married J. A. Hearn Folger. She moves in the most exclusive society. R. D. Fry's marriage with Miss Agnes Luning proved unpropitious and the couple were divorced. Mrs. Fry subsequently married Speaker Randall of Washington, in which city the lady's death occurred.

Mr. Fry took for his second wife Miss Grant, daughter of Thomas C. Grant, well known in insurance circles, and the couple had one child, Douglas Fry, who had some newspaper notoriety in connection with his elopement and marriage. R. D. Fry's second marriage was also a failure. After the divorce suit, the second Mrs. Fry married William Rogers, and Mr. Fry married Mrs. Charles Edward Heise, the divorced wife of a custom house broker. Mr. Fry's third marriage was as unfortunate as the other two, and the usual recourse to the divorce court was had. His divorced wife remarried her first husband, and died shortly after the fire in 1906. Mr. Fry's second wife sought the divorce court after her second marriage, and got her final decree from Mr. Rogers last summer. Rumor had it that she and Mr. Fry were likely to remarry, but so far the expectation has not been realized. Mr. Fry's financial ventures have been much more successful than his matrimonial.—The Wasp.

A Dance at Ingleside

The corner of Fillmore street and Broadway was an animated scene Friday evening when residents of the neighborhood saw groups of young people arrive in automobiles and gather in a crowd of forty or more that waited for the special car to convey them to Ingleside where Miss Martha McMahon was hostess of the evening at a dance. It was for two bridal couples of next month, Miss Amalia Simpson and William Hough, and Miss Florence Cliff and Edward Janas and their attendants. The novelty of giving it at the Ingleside Club was voted a great success. The ball-room is small, but excellently adapted to informal dances such as the one of Wednesday.—Town Talk.

Sure It Will Be Warm

Miss Amalia Simpson, whose marriage to William Hough takes place on September 6, is being treated to a whirl of attentions these days. One of the most pleasant affairs yet given in her honor took place last Friday with Miss Grace Gibson as hostess. Among those present was Miss Enid Gregg, who is possessed of a ready wit. During a pause in the conversation, Miss Gibson suggested: "I do hope it will be a warm winter."

"How could it help but be?" supplied Miss Gregg.

"How do you make that out?" asked Miss Kathleen Farrell.

"Isn't Eleanor Sears coming?"—News Letter.

Miss Crocker's New Pearls

Everybody has read about the valuable pearl necklace that was stolen from Miss Jennie Crocker at a fashionable function—the circumstances of the affair being most mysterious. I am informed that Miss Crocker has replaced that lost necklace by an equally valuable one, purchased when she was in London this summer. Society will have a chance to see it this winter; also the four magnificent pear-shaped diamonds which Banker William H. Crocker bought in London and presented to his wife, Mrs. Crocker. I hear, intends to have these precious stones set by a San Francisco goldsmith—quite a compliment to San Francisco skill.—The Wasp.

Thinks He Has a Mission

Every now and then a minister bobs up with a vengeance to ease. This time it is in little old New York, where everything is supposed to happen, but where they really lack courage, except that of money. What real aviators in different lines there are of them came from San Francisco. And whenever a New Yorker wants to be himself, he is obliged to come out here. He may call us a village, but the manner he assumes as our much-travelled world. Out West, every one is an individual, even over in San Rafael, that quiet town of affluents—safe no longer because a moving picture company is established there. But in Gotham the individual is nothing—unless he looks like Abraham Lincoln and is on one side of a penny. But out of this mess, as we suggested, as elsewhere, a minister bobs occasionally, thinking he has a message to deliver. The profession, it appears, will never get over that conceit. The name of this one does not matter. The point is that, having stood for such business for twenty-five years or so, he is now up or both toes hollering at the proposed marriage of Colonel John Jacob Astor, aged forty-nine or something, and Miss Madeline Image Force, but sweet nineteen, meaning possibly twenty-one. At any rate, the girl is old enough to know her own mind. The minister, on the other hand, does not appear to be calling it a case of "boughten chattel," he forgets that the lady put the bride on her own fair throat, handing the holding end to Colonel John. Two million dollars was the price. If she had a mind to do it, it is nobody's business but her own. For our part, we feel sorry for Colonel John. The price is rather too high for one so mercenary as to accept it. However, let us hope that the bargain does not disappoint him. Forty-nine years is not so old, after all. Indeed, we have known men who were younger at that age than others at twenty-five. Considering Nat Goodwin and a few more, Colonel John, in fact, should have quite a career before him yet. If his temperament is not the youthful sort, he, at least, has the price. The minister should be thankful that he really condescends to be married. Lots of New Yorkers don't.—News Letter.

That Male Beauty Show

Well, it has come to pass even as I predicted. Some of the Billingtonites who were listed as entrants in the beauty show for men which is to be a feature of the charity entertainment at Miss Crocker's home next month, are hesitating about making themselves ridiculous. Even for charity which covers a multitude of sins against good taste, they appear unwilling to make themselves objects of derision. This does not surprise me in the least. There are some men in our aristocratic coterie who have no objection to donning woman's gear for a charity entertainment or a low jinks, but there are a whole lot more who object very emphatically. Some of these, it seems, were beguiled by their enthusiasm for charity into consenting to appear at the beauty show. Others, I imagine, were put down as entrants without being consulted. And now some of these are manifesting an unwillingness to go on exhibition. Still, there will be enough of the other mind to make the beauty show a success.—Town Talk.

Birdie's a Game Sport

A San Francisco gentleman who has just returned from Europe tells me that he was at Biarritz at the same time as Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt Jr. And he told a story which seems to prove that our own Birdie is no piker when it comes to games of chance. He says he was at the Casino one night when Mrs. Vanderbilt was playing and saw her lose $3000 without betraying any emotion. She left the table quietly, went to the manager of the Casino and asked to be accommodated with a loan of 50,000 francs. Such loans are rarely made, but Birdie got the money because her credit was good. Then she went back to the table, played for some time with varying luck, but finally won back her $3000. Smiling her satisfaction she returned the $10,000 she had borrowed and quit.—Town Talk.

Miss De Young's Barn Dance

The barn dance given by Miss Kathleen de Young last Saturday evening gave her friends the chance of greeting Miss Rebecca Kruttschnitt's betrothed, who followed the young lady from Santa Barbara. I am told they had known each other but two weeks when the young man proposed and was accepted. The marriage will be celebrated this fall in Chicago where the Kruttschnitts own a handsome residence. Mr. Woodhouse had evinced an admiration for the dashing Miss Newhall before the Chicago beauty's arrival but Miss Newhall had many a console were consolation required. Miss Kruttschnitt's brother married Miss Pickering several years ago and they live in Mexico. Miss de Young entertained her young friends in a novel manner. Dinner was partaken of at the Marin Country Club and from there the party repaired to the barn at the de Young place where a oily dance was enjoyed. The following day an at fresco luncheon ended the festivities.—Town Talk.

GUESTS FROM BOSTON.

Governor and Mrs. Foss of Massachusetts, who came West to attend the marriage of their son, have been the honored guests at many complimentary affairs in the past few days. A very interesting luncheon was given them by Clinton Worden of San Francisco, and on this side of the bay they were the guests at luncheon of the Sherwoods.

Pretty Avis Sherwood was one of the bridesmaids at the wedding of Mr. Foss and Miss Dorothy Chapman, which took place on Wednesday in San Francisco. Miss Sherwood was a very dainty study in her bridesmaid costume of white marquisette over dewdrop net, artistically trimmed in silver bead fringe. The hats were quite the prettiest seen at any wedding in San Francisco this season. They were Charlotte Corday effects in tulle, beautifully trimmed in pink roses. The shower bouquets to match the gowns were of pink and white carnations. The bride's gifts to her attendants were sapphire and pearl pins, and the groom's gifts were beautiful gold cuff links.

The bride's going-away gown was a jaunty gray suit, worn with a tailored hat of delft blue.

Mr. and Mrs. Foss Jr. are to make their permanent home in the suburbs of Boston.

MISS GLENN A HOSTESS.

Miss Hope Glenn of Colusa was a hostess this week at a very elaborate luncheon across the bay. A marriage of interest to many people here took place this week in Culebra, Canal Zone, Panama, the marriage of Miss Katherine Devo and Mr. Albert G. Bates. Among those who went from San Francisco to attend the wedding were the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Gerberding, and the latter's daughter, Miss Beatrice Gerberding. The latter are going by way of Panama to New York, where Miss Gerberding is to be in school during the coming year.

Mrs. Gerberding is an aunt of Mrs. Egbert Stone and has often been the latter's guest in her home at Elmhurst.

The Stones have returned from their camp on the Russian river and they are planning to spend the coming winter across the bay.

crape paper. The same color was carried out with the score cards and favors of the afternoon. Five hundred was enjoyed and the prizes were won by Mrs. Haley, Mrs. Jenkins and Mrs. Griffin. Following the refreshments a social hour with music was enjoyed by all. Mrs. Griffin is one of Modesto's popular society matrons and has a most gracious manner.

The color scheme in the decorations was lavender and green. A game of five hundred was played at Mrs. Collins' home and afterward the twenty-five guests adjourned to the home of Mrs. Nevius, where an elaborate luncheon was served, after which the shower was given to the honor guest.

Mrs. A. P. Black gave an interesting outline of proposed work. Mrs. R. P. Blinney, state chairman of publicity, named among her helpers Mrs. Norman Markin, Mrs. Ella Huxton, Mrs. L. P. Crane, Mrs. Bert Chilson and Mrs. W. C. Vernon. MAID SERVES IN ONE FAMILY PERIOD OF HALF A CENTURY

BALTIMORE.—To be in the service of one family for more than fifty-two years as a servant is the proud distinction of Catharine Smith of this city, who will celebrate her eightieth birthday next month at the home of Mrs. John J. Starr, 613 Lennox street, in whose family she has been since she was 23 years old.

Mrs. Starr says her faithful servant and she have been more like friends during the last fifty years than like employer and servant.

"At the time I engaged Catharine, in the spring of 1859," said Mrs. Starr, "our family lived in Lombard street, which at that time was a fashionable part of Baltimore. We needed a servant badly, and an advertisement in one of the local papers brought us thirty-six applicants. Catharine was the last to call. Her neatness of dress and pleasing countenance struck our fancy, and we engaged her. I was a young girl at the time, and had just returned home from boarding school. Catharine had been in the family only a few days before we realized what a jewel she was. Like a rare stone, her value has increased each year. Next month she will celebrate her eightieth birthday, and her health is still very good. I doubt if there is another servant in the world who can equal Catharine's faithful record."

When Catharine first came to us she had two young sons. Both now hold responsible places, one in Washington, with whom she is now on a visit, and the other in Annapolis. Both sons have tried to induce her to live with them, but this she declines to do.

"When I was married," Mrs. Starr went on to say, "we took Catharine with us. We have long since looked upon her as one of the family."

Catharine is of English descent, and Mrs. Starr proudly remarked that the faithful servant had a bit of Irish blood in her veins. Kindness and fair treatment is the rule, Mrs. Starr says, housekeepers should follow if they want to keep good servants. Then, again, one should take an interest in the affairs of their employes, advising them occasionally on matters of personal import and showing them that you are interested in their general welfare.

WOMEN IN THE NEWS WOMAN CAN'T LIVE ON LESS THAN $67 A DAY

WASHINGTON, August 26.—Mrs. Rose Keeling Hutchins has fixed $67 a day as the lowest figure on which a millionaire's wife could live properly. This figure was arrived at when Mrs. Hutchins petitioned the equity court for consent to utilize her $1000 a month allowance for "pin money."

She insisted the allowance made by her invalid millionaire husband was altogether too small to meet her expenses, and submitted an itemized table to prove her contentions. The principal items for the month are:

Servants, $242; automobile, livery and chauffeur, $275; milk, $30; marketing, groceries and wine $350; pew rent, $18; music, $15; charity, $15; theater tickets, $10; summer club dues, $5; silver insurance, $8; massage, $5; dress and toilet articles, $20; flowers, $15; cleaning clothes, $20; physicians, $25; dentist, $5; traveling, $50; clothing for Mrs. Hutchins, $200; rent summer cottage, $110; rent, Paris apartment, $110; taxes Paris apartment, $15; books, $2; miscellaneous, $54. Total, $2,013.

In view of this documentary evidence it is recommended by Louis A. Dent, auditor of the District of Columbia Supreme Court, that the allowance be increased to $2000 a month, by which the injunction that Mrs. Hutchins meet all household expenditures, including the medical expenses attendant on her husband's illness.

Secret Divorce Granted

MAXWELL, Aug. 26.—Mrs. Maud Harden Vroom has been granted an interlocutory decree of divorce from G. B. Vroom, a wealthy merchant. The cause was not made known, as the papers were placed on the secret file.

Mrs. Vroom is 23 years old and one of the society leaders of Colusa county. She is the sister of Mrs. E. Vroom, of Colusa, and a niece of W. W. Brown, president of the Farmers and Merchants' Bank of Colusa.

Her marriage a year or two ago to Vroom created a sensation, as it followed soon after the suicide of her first husband, Stacia Mitchell, a merchant. Vroom lives in Oakland.

To Wed Hawaiian Girl

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Aug. 26.—W. K. Achi, the big Hawaiian catcher on the varsity baseball team, has won as his bride a beautiful Hawaiian girl of Honolulu. The girl is a stepdaughter of Achi, and is the daughter of Achi's stepmother, who adopted the family name of Achi. Achi is the first of his race to distinguish himself at Stanford. He is the author of three of the Cardinal's most popular songs.

Since his advent at Stanford Achi has been prominent in athletics. He played baseball with his class team and made his "S" last year in the last inning of the Stanford-California game.

The coming year he will go with his bride to Yale, where he will be a candidate for a "Y."

Divorces Marine Captain

RENO, Nev., Aug. 26.—Charging that her husband was cruel and inhuman, Mrs. Cora Isabel Abraham Westcott has obtained a divorce from Charles T. Westcott, Jr., captain of United States Marines, formerly stationed at Mare Island, but now at Governor's Island, New York. Mrs. Westcott said that her husband drank to excess and frequently gambled away his pay.

On several occasions, she said, she was forced to borrow money from friends while living in foreign lands. At Paris she was forced to apply to the American ambassador to secure funds with which to return to the United States. While in Manila she secured a temporary loan in order to purchase necessities of life.

Shoots at Son-in-Law

SAN RAFAEL, Aug. 26.—Nell Sorenson, proprietor of a saloon in the Petaluma road, was taken before District Attorney Boyd and Sheriff J. J. Keating yesterday to explain why he shot twice at his son-in-law, Harry Obitz, a gamekeeper in the Novato district.

The shooting occurred in Sorenson's saloon. Obitz and the saloonman's daughter, who is under age, were married recently. Sorenson took exception to the manner in which young Obitz courted the girl and at a meeting yesterday hot words ensued. Sorenson fired two shots at close range with a revolver, but missed.

"It was just a little misunderstanding," Sorenson said. "I did not intend to harm the boy. I fired over his head to frighten him."

It was found that the father-in-law had caused for his anger and he was dismissed with a warning.

On Fishing Trip

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—Colonel John Jacob Astor, accompanied by his fiancée, Miss Madeline Force, and her father, William H. Force, left yesterday for a fishing trip on the yacht Yvonne. Colonel Astor said he was about to embark that the yacht would go through Long Island sound and might go as far as Martha's Vineyard, and that they might stop again at Robbins Island, Peconic Bay.

The trip is for the benefit of the health of Miss Force, which was not entirely recovered on the last trip. The party expects to return to New York early next week.

Beauty May Be Greatly Aided

By LILLIAN RUSSELL

(Copyright, 1911, By Lillian Russell.)

HAVE received a letter from a good, but unknown friend who bewails the fact that I have become an apostle of beauty. She says the woman who powders her nose is lost. Another acquaintance came up to my room the other day and when out of pure goodness of heart I offered her my powder box, answered in the most supercilious manner: "I never use it." She certainly looked the part. Her face was shiny, her nose was red, her chin was full of blackheads, there was an ugly brown mark around her neck and plentiful wrinkles about her eyes.

The use of powder, my dear readers, is not a sin; it is only a question of taste. I think it is good taste to use it, you may think reverse.

If you wish to be absolutely, cleanly, to have an intangible fragrance about your person, to be guiltless of an odor of perspiration and to disclose to the world a skin which is satiny in texture and fresh in youthful tint, then you will use powder just as you use soap. It is a part of your bath. Your husband uses it every time he shaves. You sprinkle it copiously over the delicate, dainty flesh of your baby every time you take his palpitating little body from his bath. Then why should you not use this most pleasing addition to good grooming? Isn't it just as necessary for you to be comfortable as for the rest of your family?

The trouble which has prejudiced so many against powder is the fact that so few women know how to use it properly. They dust it over their faces, allow it to accumulate in their eyelashes and eyebrows, and lie in streaks across their chin and sink in little mounds in their ears, making them look like clowns at a circus.

To powder one's face properly it should first be cleansed with cold cream and, after this has been wiped off with a bit of antiseptic gauze a tiny bit of flesh food should be rubbed softly all over the skin. Then use a powder which is fluffy and light, rubbing it on with a knotted wool powder puff, which must always be perfectly clean. One must have three or four of these puffs and only use one a couple of times before it is discarded for a clean one. The soiled ones can be washed, dried and used again. After this the eyebrows and eyelashes should be carefully brushed with an eyebrow brush and then the face lightly gone over with a clean puff, so that no unsightly patches of powder can be seen.

The use of an antiseptic powder is almost necessary to those who are afflicted with large pores, as it fills them with something which is hygienically pure instead of the dirt and filth which will get into them otherwise, unless you know that the powder you buy is antiseptic.

A very splendid face powder for a face containing large pores is made of Venetian talcum, 20 grams; licopodium powder, 20 grams; powdered tannin, 5 grams; boric acid, 5 grams; essence of patchouli, 10 drops. Sift through silk bolting cloth three times, beginning with a coarser mesh and each time using a finer mesh cloth. This is one of the best powders to use on faces which are prone to blackheads, coarse pores and pimples.

Remember, a clever woman has said: "What shall it behoove a woman if her hat is on straight and her complexion isn't?"

A. S.—One of the simplest methods of overcoming the nail biting habit is to anoint the finger tips with a bitter liquid. Have this solution made up, and apply several times daily after washing the hands: One dram quinine sulphate, one ounce water and one dram extract of quassia. This solution does not discolor the nails, but it does leave a little deposit which is exceedingly bitter and disagreeable to the taste. If you bite your nails it is well to manure them thoroughly once a week, and give them a little care each day. The secret of conquering the habit is to make the nails too attractive to disfigure. I am sending you by mail a complete instruction for manicuring.

MRS. K.—The exercise which you mention in your letter may be good for reducing flesh, but I should think it would prove very fatiguing. If you have any trouble with your heart, I advise you to let such strenuous measures alone. It takes time to reduce one's flesh. Diet and exercise are the only know it because I have done it. Methods that one can use with any degree of satisfaction and success, know it because I have done it. If you will send me a stamped, self-addressed letter, I will send you my dietary and also my rolling exercise.

Says She Broke Engagement And Defends Clergyman

PHILADELPHIA.—Suffering from a nervous breakdown as the result of the publicity given to the mysterious postponement of her marriage to Rev. Guy B. Shipley, former St. Louisan, Miss Marguerite Strong, daughter of Colonel Joseph H. Strong of Chicago, told from behind a screen in her room at the Strong apartments at 1331 Wesley avenue, Ocean City, N. J., of her shattered romance. Miss Strong, at first, declined to discuss the affair, but later admitted that the "indefinite postponement" had been made permanent, and that the wedding presents were being returned.

Miss Strong, when asked why the marriage had been called off, said that there were several reasons. She said that she merely had exercised a woman's right in changing her mind. From behind the screen in the dark room, Miss Strong spoke of the rumors in connection with the affair, as being preposterous, absurd and unfounded.

"I would like to know where all these many rumors started," she said, "for the perpetrators of such falsehoods should be punished. Mr. Shipley is a perfect gentleman and always conducted himself as such. There are reasons why our marriage has been canceled, but they are purely of a personal nature and I don't feel called upon to air them to the public."

Trenton's "Kissing Kid" Runs Amuck

TRENTON, N. J.—Little did General George Washington, first in war, first in peace, and first in the hearts of his countrymen, think when he crossed the Delaware that the time would come when Trenton would think so little of bravery that a youth who endeavored to kiss all the girls in a department store would be sent to jail for ten days.

But after all is said, it is hard to keep Trenton from making history, and Charles Tully, 15 years old, became afflicted with the hallucination that he was a kissing bug. The idea took such a strong hold on him that he had been an older person many would have thought the season for applejack had arrived a few months ahead of time.

They turned Charles over to the police, and he was arraigned in court. He had a dozen or more complaints against him. He was not charged with obscenity, but with attempt. Modesty forbade that any should admit the young man had been successful. The court said there could be no defense for the action. He looked out the window over the stream that Washington crossed and sentenced the lad to ten days in the county jail.

Where had invaded a department store, a young woman attending a counter where perfumes and powder rags and rats are sold was suddenly aware that she had been kissed. She was indignant. Any young woman kissed in public in Trenton, has a right to be, just the same as any girl living in any other place.

Another chapter was added to a romance which began in Chrome, a town in New Jersey, where the Rev. William Houston, then a student at Princeton, was supplying a pulpit during the summer, and where Miss Elizabeth Bautain heard him preach in a little Presbyterian church. The pair were married in this city.

LOSSES HEART TO PASTOR
The ceremony of a solemn marriage was performed at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Bautain, at 1008 West Girard avenue, by the Rev. Dr. Hauser. Mr. Houston came to this country from Ireland a few years ago. He entered Princeton University, and paid his college expenses during his course by writing for newspapers. During the summer he supplied pulpits in different parts of New Jersey, one of them being the Presbyterian Church at Chrome.

OAKLAND'S BOYS AND GIRLS

ADMISSION DAY TO BE CELEBRATED ON PLAYGROUNDS

Admission day will be celebrated on three Oakland playgrounds—Bushrod, De Fremery and Garfield—by historical pageants, folk dances, athletic exercises, baseball games and track meets. The exercises will be under the direction of the playground directors, and will be supervised by George Dickie, superintendent of playgrounds.

The feature of the day will be California historical pageants, who will be selected from each playground to represent "Miss California," who will be welcomed into the union by girls dressed to represent the different states. Scenes from California history will precede the crowning of "Miss California."

At Bushrod playground the directors have decided to have a "California Product" pageant in addition. Each child will be dressed to represent some agricultural or horticultural product of this state.

The Bushrod celebration will be directed by Johanna Johnson, Miss Hazel Dell, Elbert Vail and C. L. Weaver; the De Fremery pageant by Miss Bernice Chambers and L. B. Marchant, and the Garfield exercises by Miss Elizabeth Ploy and J. P. Crawford.

The dances will be Indian as far as possible. Several dances peculiar to the Spanish, Mexican and Russian settlers of this section will be included in the program.

LITTLE GIRL WANTS TO JOIN INDIAN TRIBE

The postmaster at Chickasaw delivered the letter to Eldon Lowe, the district Indian agent. It reads as follows: "Dear Friend: I love the Indians and I want to be with them. Can I help you and can I be with you all? Write and let me know any one that wants to write to an Indian's friend, for I hope I will be one soon. Don't get offended at this, and answer soon. I would like to join you all. I would give my life to be with the Indians, I imagine. This makes two letters I have written."

KERMIT ROOSEVELT ON WAY HOME AFTER HUNT

YUMA, Ariz., Aug. 26.—Tanned to a rich brown by his two weeks' hunting trip, Kermit Roosevelt, Jr., son of the late Roosevelt, left for the East last night with four Mexican mountain sheep as trophies of his expedition.

After traveling 100 miles of desert, the guides found a water hole where mountain sheep were plentiful, but lack of water had driven the antelope high into the mountains and not one was sighted during their stay, said young Roosevelt.

WOMAN AS A BUYER

Experts of the University of Wisconsin have been figuring on the comparative value of men and women as buyers. The university verdict is against the women even as purchasers of household supplies. The case against the women is even put so strongly that we have the suggestion of some billion of dollars wasted annually because of the indifference and dereliction of those who are charged with the bulk of the household buying. The statement is made that fully ten billions of dollars are spent every year for family living necessities and luxuries, and that fully 90 per cent. of that amount is spent—or mispent—by women.

LIST OF DEAD TOTALS 26.

MANCHESTER, N. Y., Aug. 26.—A carload of rough pine boxes was delivered here today and before daylight farmers and villagers began carrying them to the temporary morgue, where lay 23 bodies of those who were killed yesterday in the wreck of the Lehigh Valley train on the trestle over Canandaigua Creek.

There were twenty-three others in the morgue at Rochester, probably will complete the list of dead, unless more deaths occur among the fifty or sixty injured.

It is now established that the wreck was caused by a broken rail. Three cars of the train of fourteen plunged from the track. The train was bound from Buffalo to Jersey City and a majority of those aboard were on their way to homes in New Jersey and Eastern Pennsylvania.

SEEKS NAMES IN AIN.

Coroner Eiselein has been making careful efforts to obtain the names of the injured, but so many were taken away to various cities, including Geneva, Canandaigua, Rochester and smaller intermediate places, that it is impossible to compile a list of the injured.

ROUNDS THE WORLD IN 39 DAYS
FRENCHMAN BREAKS THE RECORD

ANDRE JAGER-SCHMIDT, who arrived in Paris this morning after having circled the world in 39 days, 19 hours, 43 minutes and 37 3-5 seconds. He now holds the record, the fastest previous journey around the globe having been made by M. Stiegler in 63 days.

Andre Jager-Schmidt Makes Trip by Way of Vladivostok, Montreal and New York

PARIS, Aug. 26.—Andre Jager-Schmidt, the Parisian journalist, drove up in an automobile in front of the office of the Daily Excelsior, in the Avenue Champs Elysees at two minutes 19 2-5 seconds past 9 o'clock this morning officially completing his circuit of the world in 39 days, 19 hours, 43 minutes and 37 3-5 seconds. Jager-Schmidt started from Paris at 1:45 p. m., July 17, in an attempt to beat the record of M. Stiegler of the Paris Match, who made the journey in sixty-three days.

The route followed by Jager-Schmidt took him to Vladivostok by way of Moscow. At Vladivostok he boarded a steamer bound for Yokohama, whence he sailed for British Columbia, arriving at Vancouver on scheduled time.

Taking a train at Vancouver, the traveler passed through Montreal August 17, bound for New York, reaching that city August 18, and on the following day he left New York, sailing on the steamer Olympic on the last leg of his journey.

The traveler could have arrived at his goal two hours earlier if he had not stayed at Cherbourg after midnight for a supper given in his honor by journalists.

Is Man With False Teeth
Exempt From His Poll Tax

NEW BRITAIN, Conn., Aug. 26.—Is a man with false teeth exempt from paying his poll and commutation taxes? This question will be decided by the Connecticut courts this winter, having been brought up by a claim of exemption filed by a New Britain farmer. According to a curious law which has been on the statute books since the Civil war, a man with false teeth is not liable to military duty and under that statute the farmer claims exemption from the personal tax which is levied in lieu of military service. If exemption on that head is upheld by the local authorities, there are thousands in the state who will escape paying personal taxes.

dericks was busy all night at the scene of the wreck and a greater part of the wrecked cars, including those at the bottom of the gully, were removed and the main line was cleared before midnight so that trains might cross the bridge slowly. Personal effects belonging to those in the wreck still remain piled up in the Manchester passenger waiting room, and on top of the mound along with half a dozen soft hats of the G. A. R. veterans, is some little child's doll.

RAIL WAS DEFECTIVE.

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—The upstate public service commission received today the following report from its representatives who are at Manchester investigating the wreck:

"Lehigh Valley Train No. 4, consisting of fourteen cars, left Rochester Junction forty-two minutes late. Running through Manchester yards at about twenty-five miles an hour, at a point about 600 feet east of Manchester station, it struck a broken rail, which was broken into seven pieces. The rail was 'piped' (a defect in rolling).

"The last nine cars of the train were derailed. The train ran so that the last car stopped about three rail lengths from the broken rail. The two engines and five cars passed over the Canandaigua outlet trestle. Coaches 273 and 297 dropped forty-five feet into Canandaigua creek. Dining car 298 rolled over on its side and rolled twenty feet down the embankment. The rest of the derailed cars were not seriously damaged.

"Up to this morning twenty-six deaths were reported and sixty-eight persons injured, thirty-seven of whom are in the hospital. Of the seriously injured it is expected that seven will die.

SCANT HINT OF PLANS OF DEFENSE

"Sensations" Slow to Develop in Beattie Murder Case, Though Rumors Plenty.

Second Day of Trial is Devoted to Listening to Testimony of Schoolboys.

CHESTERFIELD COURTHOUSE, Va., Aug. 26.—H. M. Smith, Jr., chief counsel for Henry Clay Beattie, Jr., made a hurried trip last night to the scene of the murder of Louise Owen Beattie on the Midlothian turnpike, with a view to taking measurements to refute the testimony of witnesses who told yesterday of hearing a woman's scream, the starting of an automobile, and a gunshot without hearing a man's cries or the tooting of a motor car horn.

The defense contends that Mrs. Beattie was shot, not by the defendant, but by an unknown man in the road and has sought to support Beattie's story that he called for aid and sound his horn. Cross-examination of the commonwealth's witnesses yesterday failed to bring out much to sustain this and it is understood that Mr. Smith worked far into the night, going over the ground where the tragedy occurred. It is claimed that a shot and a woman's scream were heard Beattie's cries also could have been heard.

DEFENSE IS SECRETIVE.

One of the chief features of interest in Beattie's case has been the scant hints of plans for the defense. Today there was added interest with a promised new twist by the prosecution. With the State's list of witnesses also announced and the general outline of its case presented, there were nevertheless rumors, partly confirmed by counsel, that a new witness or unexpected testimony by some witness already summoned would mark the season's some time before adjournment today.

Aside from this "sensation" it was known that the commonwealth would take up the testimony where it was left at adjournment yesterday, and would put on the stand several of the companions of A. K. Briggs, the 13-year-old Richmond boy, who swore that he and several others in an automobile returning to Richmond saw a man and a woman in an automobile not far from the scene of the crime half an hour or so before the shot which killed Louise Owen Beattie was fired.

Young Briggs was not asked yesterday to identify Beattie as the man he saw, but the prosecution promised to call on his companions further to explain the incident.

"OTHER WOMAN" AWAITED.

Although the case has now been in progress six days, neither Paul Beattie, the counsel, nor the commonwealth, has purchased for Beattie the gun with which Mrs. Beattie was killed, nor Beulah Binford, "the other woman in the case," has been called to the stand and identified as the woman who today which would testify first.

At 10:30 Judge Watson arose from behind a big vase of flowers which adorned his desk and appealed to the "virgin gentlemen" present, "be tolerant of the heat and keep their coats on in deference to the women present."

Henry Clay Beattie, seated beside his father, eagerly read a morning paper's account of yesterday's testimony.

E. K. Mosely, 18 years of age, the second of the eight high school boys who claim on the night of the tragedy to have passed a machine on the road to that which Beattie and his wife were supposed to have been in, was the first witness of the day.

A. K. Bridges, one of the group of boys, testified yesterday that he saw a man tinkering with a machine on the road and that a woman was standing on the running board. He gave no detailed description of the persons he saw. The eight boys had attended a dance at Bon Air and were returning in two machines over the Midlothian turnpike to Richmond.

"Did you pass a machine on your way to Richmond?" Mosely was asked by the prosecution.

Wonderful Decrease in Killed and Injured as Result of Recent Legislation.

Campaign Began Decade Ago Bearing Fruit in Decreased Casualty List.

CHICAGO, Aug. 26.—A decrease of lives lost from 372 to 67 and of the number of persons injured from 4440 to 1603, was the result of sane Fourth legislation in the years beginning with 1903 and ending with 1911.

This saving of human life is shown in the report of Independence day accidents which will be issued by the Journal of the American Medical Association.

The Journal credits the great saving in life and limb to the nation-wide campaign which began more than a decade ago against the old time celebration of the nation's birthday. The decrease is shown in the following table:

| | | |
|---------|------|------|
| Killed | 1908 | 1911 |
| Injured | 4440 | 1603 |

In the nine years, 1179 persons have been killed. In the same time, 87,410 persons were injured.

The improvement is especially noticeable in the large cities. Four years ago in Chicago, fifteen persons were killed and 150 were injured on the Fourth of July. This year two persons were killed and only fifty-three injured. In 1907, twenty-two persons were killed in New York City on the Fourth and 422 were injured. In 1911, three were killed and ninety-one were injured. Both cities have adopted a sane Fourth celebration.

LIVELY CAMPAIGN

Convention of Eagles Causes McCarthy to Postpone Political Activity.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 26.—Since the Eagles have been in town Mayor P. H. McCarthy has paid little attention to his campaign program, as he declared, it would not be appropriate for him to be occupied in his personal welfare while he was entertaining guests of the city.

Commencing next Monday, however, an active campaign will be instituted which will include numerous meetings in every part of the city for which the programs have already been arranged by the Mayor's committee.

The mayor has taken great interest in the Eagles' Grand Arlequin and on many occasions has delivered addresses to the visitors. In the meantime the various clubs and district organizations working in his behalf are lining up the voters.

CAPTURED AFTER LIVELY CHASE

Stolen Purse and Watch Are Found On Accused Highway Robber

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 26.—At an early hour this morning Thomas Lally was arrested on Folsom street, near Kearny, on the charge of highway robbery. The complaining witness was Maria Roma, who keeps a rooming-house at 805 Kearny street. Lally met her about 5 o'clock, seized her by the throat, took her watch and purse, she said. The woman cried out for assistance and attracted the attention of Officers Scollin, Maloney and Behanney, who gave chase and finally overtook Lally.

They found in his possession the purse and the watch which had been taken from the woman.

Smith Jr., his counsel, particularly directing a line of questioning which might indicate that the boys' machines were running too fast to remember scenes or buildings along the road by which the youths claim to have located later the scene of the murder as identical with the position they passed on the road.

"Would you know the buildings you saw if you went there the next morning?" asked Mr. Smith.

Couple Awaken in Early Morning When Flames Are Eating Way to Bedroom.

Aged Woman Carried From a Neighboring Dwelling, Which Is Guttered by Fire.

BERKELEY, Aug. 26.—In a mysterious fire which destroyed one residence at 2612 Warring street and gutted another at 2614 Warring street at 1:30 o'clock this morning, Mrs. E. E. Bushnell, 90 years of age and a cripple, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hansen had narrow escapes from the flames.

Mrs. Bushnell was carried from the home of her grandson, L. B. Howe, manager of the Manhattan laundry, who lives at 2614 Warring street, to the residence of a neighbor, when the flames, which originated in the kitchen of the Hansen home, began to eat into the second story of the Howe dwelling.

ALARM IS GIVEN.

The fire had burned most of the interior of the one-story Hansen residence before the aged couple were awakened by the crackling of the flames. The blaze had almost reached their bedroom when discovered. Having no telephone, Hansen partially dressed and hastened to the Howe home, where a still alarm was turned in.

Although Chief Kenney drove his chemical automobile from the city hall station in record-breaking speed, the fire had practically consumed the Hansen residence before he arrived. The automobile engine from the Shattuck and Vine street station and other apparatus also responded and saved the Howe residence and other dwellings from destruction.

GENTEEL TRADITION IS GONE, SAYS SANTAYANA

Noted Harvard Professor Delivers Annual Address Before Philosophical Union of the State University

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, Aug. 26.—The philosophical union of the University of California held its annual meeting at Hearst hall last evening and listened to an address by the distinguished professor of philosophy at Harvard University, George Santayana, who was one of the lecturers at the summer session of the state university. The meeting was a public one. Professor Santayana spoke on "The Genteel Tradition on American Philosophy."

According to the speaker, this genteel or polite tradition among American philosophers is a form of Calvinism not always the theological system of John Calvin, the Protestant reformer, or of Jonathan Edwards, but a system of thought which Professor Santayana said completely dominated the early life and thought of this country.

In brief, Dr. Santayana said, "Calvinism was an expression of the agonized conscience and asserted that sin is punished, and that it is beautiful that sin is to be punished. To be a Calvinist is to feel a pleasure in one's own misery. To some this seems fantastic and unintelligible. The nation in its early history was small and isolated and emphasized small things. Afterwards the sense of sin totally evaporated. Good will become the great American virtue. The modern American is convinced that he always has been and always will be victorious and blameless."

KANT AND EMERSON

Prof. Santayana discussed the transcendentalism of the German philosopher Kant and of Emerson, and said:

"Emerson, a shrewd Yankee, by instinct on the winning side, inferior to the civil side, had no system, but opened his eyes every morning with a fresh sincerity. His habits and training of mind were those of the preacher. He has also love and respect for nature."

"Have there been successful efforts to escape the genteel tradition? The humanists escaped in part. They point to what contradicts it in the facts and seems

SMOKE FROM OIL WORRIES DOCTOR

Berkeley Physician Says He Was Driven From Sleeping Porch

BERKELEY, Aug. 26.—Driven from his sleeping porch and next-to-nature slumber by oily smoke from the Hotel Carlton and another building near Telegraph avenue and Bancroft way, Dr. George E. Reinhardt, who was recently deposed as head of the city board of health by the Mayor Wilson administration, was made an object of sympathy at yesterday's meeting of the city council.

The presence of the smoke nuisance and its effect upon Dr. Reinhardt was brought before the council by John A. Wilson, commissioner of finance and revenue. Wilson hastened to add that he was not bringing up the matter because of any love for Dr. Reinhardt, the councilman being an anti-vaccinationist and the physician being in charge of vaccinating students at the university. Commissioner of Public Health and Safety Hoff promised to take steps to drive the smoke clouds away.

SOCIALIST ASKS FOR STATE AID

Editor Says His Type Was Dumped Out and He Was Ordered to Leave.

TOPEKA, Aug. 26.—An appeal for state protection by D. S. Oakford, editor of a Socialist paper at Garden City, Kansas, was received by Governor Stubbs today. The appeal followed a raid on Oakford's newspaper office Wednesday night by unknown persons, who dumped his type into the street and threatened to burn the building. The Socialist candidate for lieutenant-governor last year.

Representatives of the Garden City Commercial Club also came yesterday to take up Oakford's case with the state officials. They claim that he has made slanderous and obscene attacks upon reputable citizens of the town and they want the paper suppressed.

Oakford was the Socialist candidate for lieutenant-governor last year.

RICHARDSON'S CASE NOT WORRYING EDITOR

Friend William Richardson, candidate for state printer at the recent general election, is not worried by the local police court to the charge of criminal libel this morning before Judge James Quinn, as he declared that he might attack the jurisdiction of the court. The case was put over to August 31 to plead.

Richardson will be represented by City Attorney Redmond C. Staats of Berkeley, who was appointed to his present position by Mayor J. Stitt Wilson, the Socialist mayor of that city, whom Lewis engaged in an altercation at the Chester or at the site of this trouble between Austin Lewis, the complainant, and Mayor Wilson to which exception is taken by Lewis, and which has led to the present court procedure.

"I would prefer to let the matter go to trial and throw the matter out as to whether the words used are actionable or not," said Editor Richardson this morning. "But it may be that my attorney will advise a different course, and we may attack the jurisdiction of the court in the matter. He could not be here this morning so I declined to plead."

"I do not think that the words used are actionable. If, of course, if I had declared that the man was positively a pastor and at heart an atheist, I would have called him a hypocrite, that would have been holding him up to derision and public hatred and contempt, and would have been actionable. But I was not holding him up to contempt. The article merely attempted to show the difference between socialism and Christianity, and I never imagined that anybody would take offense at it. One is the red flag order of socialism, and the other the progressive branch. I wanted to describe the difference between the two, and had no intention of condemning either."

The case has been transferred from Judge Smith's court to that of Judge Samuels. This was done because Prosecuting Attorney Ezra Decoto of the Department No. 1, has made it a rule to prosecute all cases in his own court himself, and Attorney Robert Royce, for Austin Lewis, asked to be associated with the prosecution in the conduct of the case.

Attorney William J. Hennessey makes an objection to having another attorney associated with him, and the case was consequently transferred to his court.

Richardson, who is editor and proprietor of the Berkeley Gazette, has been released on $25 bail.

Richardson has no doubt but that he will have the case thrown out of court.

SCHOOL BEHAVIOR BETTER, HE SAYS

Alameda Superintendent Attributes Change to Supervised Play Now in Vogue.

ALAMEDA, Aug. 26.—The first parents-teachers' conference, planned by Superintendent of Schools Will C. Wood, was held at the Washington school assembly hall and proved a great success. The parents and teachers proved an interested audience for the principal speaker of the afternoon, Probation Officer Christopher Ruess, who spoke on "Compulsory Education and Child Labor in California."

The meeting was called to order by Superintendent Wood, who in his introductory remarks stated that a course of lectures had been arranged for the general teachers' meeting, which comes once a month and extends throughout the year. Wood stated that the general topic for the year would be the "Conservation of Childhood" and problems relating to compulsory education, child labor, organized play, health supervision, supervised athletics, physical education and the problem of the laggard in the schools would be discussed by prominent speakers who will be secured to present these phases of endeavor.

LESS PUNISHMENT.

Wood also remarked on the change in the spirit of the pupils in city schools during the past few years and called special attention to the fact that corporal punishment had decreased fifty per cent, while the discipline had improved. He attributed this to the reduction in size of the classes and the introduction of organized play. Most cases for discipline in the past had come from over-crowded classes, he said, and from combined classes, as when a teacher had to work under these conditions she could not hold the interest of all the pupils. Organized play has given the children of the public schools an opportunity to work off surplus energy at recess time. Since this new regime the pupils no longer have a tendency to misbehave in the schoolrooms.

Wood hoped in the near future the Board of Education would appoint a supervisor of physical education who would have charge of organized play, athletics and physical training in the high and elementary schools.

The parents-teachers' conference will take place the third Thursday of each school month. The next meeting is scheduled for September 21.

HILL DIVORCE SET ASIDE BY COURT

Defendant Given Five Days in Which to Present New Testimony.

Superior Judge William E. Waste late yesterday afternoon made an order setting aside the default and judgment granting to R. B. Hill of Berkeley an interlocutory decree of divorce from Margaret D. Hill, on the ground of extreme cruelty. Attorney R. Porter Ashe of San Francisco had filed an affidavit in which he declared that he had a verbal stipulation with some member of the law firm of Reed, Black & Reed, counsel for Hill, by which it was agreed that an effort to effect a settlement of the Hills' marital differences, should be made out of court before any default was entered against Mrs. Hill. Judge Waste decided that while the showing made by Ashe was not sufficient to set aside the default judgment, he would give Mrs. Hill five days within which to enter her defense.

Training camp poses of Boxer Matty Baldwin, who boxes Willie Ritchie at San Francisco on August 31, and California Joe Thomas, who is assisting the Boston man, as well as fitting himself for future ring engagements.

WILLIE RITCHIE PUTS IN A HARD DAY IN TRAINING

Californian Working With Will to be Fit for Bout With Baldwin; Griffin Pleased.

Promoter Jim Griffin acted as host for a party of sports to the training camp of Willie Ritchie and they critically watched the young Californian step through his work while preparing for his bout with Matty Baldwin at San Francisco next Thursday evening.

Ritchie worked nine rounds, three each with Charley Norvall, Puggy Cove and Jimmy Carroll. Norvall and Carroll are both exceedingly clever boys, both with their hands and on their feet, but they could not show anything that bothered Ritchie in the least.

Ritchie has nothing to learn about the clever or the scientific side of the game. He has science and cleverness at his finger tips. What he must develop is the punch, and from the way he is going right now it looks as though he has finally succeeded in solving the problem of using his right hand to good effect, especially in the clinch.

He can make the lightweight limit, 123 pounds, and fight strong, and this is a point to his advantage. He has it on him in the matter of his reach, and he certainly looks to be just as clever and class as a boxer. Now if he can show the endurance powers and the punch he stands an excellent opportunity of winning and falling in line with Welsh, McFarland and the other challengers.

BALDWIN STILL WAITING.

Out at Al White's place at the St. Julian Hotel, Matty Baldwin, the Boston scrapper, is looking about in a measure. He has not done any boxing as yet, and for this reason the local boys have been unable to get much of a line on his form or to determine whether or not he is faster than when he was against Welsh two months ago. The Boston boy is rather light and finely drawn and he does not care about doing too much work on such short notice.

He did his regulation work on the road and in the gymnasium across the bay yesterday and finished strong. He is just a few ounces over the 133-pound limit, which accounts for his laying off with the big mitts. His wind is good, and thus far his hands have held out very well. He is anxious to redeem himself in the eyes of the local fans, and better showing than he did in his recent bout with Freddie Welsh.

Baldwin intends to cut loose and do some boxing tomorrow and the next day.

GOTCH AND HACKENSCHMIDT BOTH READY FOR THE FRAY

CHICAGO, Aug. 26.—George Hackenschmidt's trainers have decided that he does not need more than two hard sessions on the mat to prepare him for his coming match with Gotch. The big Russian's condition is such now that his trainers say prolonged wrestling would do more harm than good.

HUMBOLDT, Iowa, Aug. 26.—Frank Gotch will have another secret session with his trainers this afternoon, which will end his work here. Tonight he will go to Chicago and on Monday will resume training at the Chicago Athletic Club.

Jim Coffroth Selects Daly City as Home for Long Bouts.

Daly City, the youngest municipality in the state, which lies directly south of San Francisco, where many of the champion pugilists encounters were staged by James W. Coffroth in the days when the community was a part of Colma, has attracted the attention of the fight promoter and in the near future will again achieve fame as a fight arena.

Already an organization known as the Daly City Athletic Club has been organized and incorporation papers filed with the county clerk. The master of boxing fight permits is now before the trustees of the new municipality and they have signified their willingness to allow boxing contests.

Three Bingles in the Ninthinning Adds Eighth Straight Victory to Local's List

Oakland made it eight straight yesterday afternoon when they defeated the Angels for the fourth time running this week. It was a rattling good ball game that had its main thrill in the last half of the ninth inning, for it was in this round that Oakland chased the one over that gave them the long end of the score.

Big John Teedman, was the man who started and finished the run getting in this inning. Being first to bat he poled a liner to right that was good for a single but "Busher" Loberer in right tried to wing John out at the initial station and Big John got to second base.

Carl Metzger, next in line, bunted along the third base line and Metzger let the ball roll, and it rolled into fair territory that made two men on the paths. But one of these was needed to put the game away in the won column, and it was John Flater who sent the run to the plate with a screamer to left. That's how Oakland gathered again.

Leverenz and Flater did well. Leverenz for Los Angeles and Flater for Oakland handled the sparring in clever style and our John had the best of the luck, especially in the third inning, for the Angels failed to romp after making four infield singles. After that, though, John stepped sideways to connect.

But one of these was needed to put the game away in the won column, and it was John Flater who sent the run to the plate with a screamer to left. That's how Oakland gathered again.

LOS ANGELES. Aug. 26.—Vernon won another game from the Seals by a score of 3 to 5, and Hogan's smile expanded visibly. The game was a fair sample of catch as catch can baseball, with an abundance of binging on both sides, and was strung through two hours and 15 minutes.

Castleton got away to a bad start, the Seals trouncing him for four hits in the opening frame, but he more than compensated for this in the seventh, when he drove in two runs with a single to right, sending his team into the lead.

Castleton's first clearance papers were given him by the umpire, and he left Browning a legacy consisting of seven runs and a full house. The midgelet retired the side after forcing in a run, whereupon Fanning went in and finished the job without being molested.

Winged V Team Will Reorganize for Coming Season.

VALLEJO, Aug. 26.—With the return of Captain Ted McNelis of the champion Winged V football team it is a certainty that steps toward the re-organization of last year's victorious eleven will be taken at once.

McNelis has been in Alaska all summer installing wireless stations, and expects to have an even better team than represented Vallejo a year ago. He will lose about three stars, who are out of the fold on account of being enrolled in the University of California, but counts on the abundance of material from the Telegraph Athletic club to fill existing vacancies.

Winged Vs have held the State championship for the past seven years.

Diamond Dust

Oakland gathered again, which makes eight in a row from their recent opponents, the Hooglians and Angels combined. It also makes twelve won out of the last sixteen played.

Oakland again played a swell game in the field and gave Flater that kind of support that goes toward winning ball games. Their hitting, too, came just when it helped the most.

Tiedemann took several swings at the ball and poked it good and hard, but unfortunately, several fielders went after them on the run and gathered. His poke went like a bullet at Metzger and that great little player almost stabbed it at that.

Zacher hit in hard luck and twice had hard chances knocked down by some angel fielder. One of his hits, though, went like a lightning bolt and that great little player almost stabbed it at that.

Mitze was true of arm and every time an Angel tried to steal a bag on him he nailed him, except in one case, that of Metzger in the third inning.

Tommy Madden will become a member of the Senatorial crew after the end of this week, for yesterday's victory turned him over to the Sacramento team.

Tomorrow Oakland and Los Angeles will end their series with double headers. One of the games will be played at Freeman Park and the other will take place over the big at Recreation Park.

St. Louis will take Clyde Wares for a tryout next season. When Gregory came this way it was understood that St. Louis was to get a player in exchange for the pitcher and the Americans will take Wares.

NO RACES AT COLUMBUS. COLUMBUS, Aug. 26.—Heavy rain caused postponement of yesterday's races at the Columbus driving park to postpone the remainder of the race meeting indefinitely.

WILL HE CALL IT OFF? MILWAUKEE, Aug. 26.—If Packer McFarland does not call off his bout with Leo Kelley in St. Louis on September 4 his match with Lightweight Champion Volgar, scheduled for Milwaukee, September 15, will be called off. This was the ultimatum of Frank Mulken who arranged the Volgar-McFarlane set to.

WRESTLER WANTS DIVORCE. KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 26.—Charging conduct so immoral that it was injurious to his physical condition was impaired, suit for divorce was filed here yesterday by Jim Abell, wrestler, against Mrs. Beulah Abell of this city. Abell is one of Frank Gotch's trainers and is now in the champion's Iowa camp.

TEACHER LOSES SUIT FOR SALARY

Judge Hunt Holds That S. F. Pedagogues Are Not Under Civil Service.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 26.—Declaring that school teachers are not under civil service rules and that the board of education has exclusive jurisdiction over them, Superior Judge Wood yesterday refused Nettle A. John Hunt's writ of mandate compelling the board to assign her as principal teacher in one of the first class grammar schools of the city and to pay her three years' arrearages, amounting to $180 and $150 a month.

Mrs. Wood's suit is one among a number of similar applications which have been filed recently by teachers who were reduced in rank and pay shortly after the fire of 1906, when a large number of grammar schools of the first class were wiped out. Since the rebuilding of the schools the efforts of many of these teachers to regain their former status in the department have been futile, hence the recourse to the courts.

Judge Hunt holds that the courts have no power to interfere with the board of education in its dealings with the teachers, even though its actions sometimes be unwise or unjust.

'MONA LISA' STILL AMONG MISSING

World-Wide Search for Stolen Painting by Detectives of French Republic.

PARIS, Aug. 26.—It is generally believed that Leonardo da Vinci's famous painting, "Mona Lisa," was taken to Bordeaux, whence it is feared it will be carried either to Spain or South America. In confirmation of the witness who testified that he saw a stout man carrying a large parcel covered with a horse blanket take the 7:45 express for Bordeaux Monday morning, another witness today said that on Monday he saw an individual answering the description of the man carrying the parcel throw something into a garden.

Detectives found in the garden a brass knob from the door of the Louvre which the thief had burst open in escaping from the building.

The Bordeaux police searched the steamer Cordiller, which was bound for South America, but there was no trace of "Mona Lisa" on board the vessel.

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—Every United States detective in and around New York has been instructed to watch for the famous painting "Mona Lisa," which was stolen recently from the Louvre at Paris. United States Marshal Henkel believes the thieves may bring the painting to this country as they did the stolen Gainsborough "Duchess of Devonshire."

DETECTIVE HOSICK FURNISHES HIS BAIL

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 26.—James Hosick, a detective of Los Angeles, who took John J. McNamara to Los Angeles after his arrest here and who was indicted with William J. Burns on the charge of kidnaping the labor leader, arrived here late yesterday and gave bond of $10,000 for his appearance in the criminal court. Hosick said that as far as he knew Henry Seyfried, deputy prosecuting attorney of this county, and William Holt, special state's agent, who went to California with a requisition for him, were still in that state.

ANDERSON NOT TO TAKE BANK

Plans to Rehabilitate Defunct Shasta Institution Comes to Nought.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 26.—Negotiations between Alden Anderson, former State Superintendent of Banks, and W. R. Williams, Superintendent of Banks, for the taking over by Anderson of the assets of the defunct Bank of Shasta county and to pay all legal liabilities in full, have come to nought, and the creditors will have to look to Williams for whatever the assets will yield. Anderson offered to assume and pay all legal liabilities and rehabilitate the bank under certain conditions. Williams says that he cannot agree to the propositions, as it is beyond his power to do so, and that ends the matter, for the present at least.

LETTER FROM ANDERSON.

The following letter from Anderson to Williams contains the offer and conditions upon which Anderson was willing to assume and pay the liabilities of the bank:

San Francisco, August 21, 1911.
W. R. Williams, State Superintendent of Banks, San Francisco, Cal.—Dear Sir: As a tentative proposition, I hereby offer to take over all of the assets of the Bank of Shasta county, by banking corporation, and its principal place of business in Redding, Cal., now in your hands for liquidation, and will agree to pay all legal liabilities of said bank in full, with the exception of $100,000, which amount must be raised by the stockholders, directors or other representatives of said closed institution.

If the full $100,000 is paid in to you prior to the time of said assets being turned over to me, I will immediately pay to all creditors their claims in full; but should there be a balance unpaid of said amount of $100,000 I will immediately pay said creditors in full less the amount the proportion unpaid bears to the whole amount due to each creditor.

Time is the essence of this offer, as I am firmly convinced that the liquidation can be expedited and better results achieved by immediate action.

This offer is based upon the assumption that the $100,000 heretofore tendered by J. E. Terry to the bank to his account is still available, and will be paid in as a part of said assets. I will be willing to enter into a contract with yourself as the representative of the creditors binding myself to above provisions, but prior thereto want the privilege of examining over the assets and liabilities of said bank that I may be assured that I do not misunderstand the accounts as presented to me by your truly.

ALDEN ANDERSON.

Williams replied, stating that he has given the matter careful consideration, and that he cannot accept the proposition in its present form, owing to the conditions attached, as it will be impossible for him to comply with them immediately. He could not promise that the stockholders or others would raise $100,000, or whether the amount would be raised at once. He further calls attention to the fact that he cannot delegate the power to pay the creditors to anyone else, nor can he guarantee the payment of the $100,000 offered by J. E. Terry.

Williams states that he will be glad to receive an offer from the bank to purchase of the assets, including the Terry claims, and eliminating conditions that cannot be legally accepted by him.

NEW ELKS' HOME TO COST $500,000

Grand Lodge Decides it Shall Be Finest of Kind in World.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 26.—At a meeting of the officers of the Grand Lodge of Elks last night, it was decided to erect a new Elks' Home on the site of the present institution at Bedford City, Va.

The officers declared that the new structure shall cost nearly half a million dollars and surpass any fraternal home in the United States in beauty. Work on the building will begin next spring, when the inmates will be established temporarily at a nearby watering place.

ROYALISTS ARE READY TO INVADE PORTUGAL

LISBON, Aug. 26.—General Bastos, commander-in-chief of the Republican forces on the northern frontier, today informed the ministry of war, according to the newspapers at the capital, that the royalists in Galicia are about to invade Portugal. The royalists are said to be numerous, well organized and armed with the latest patterned rifles and artillery. A steady enlistment is going on in the north of Portugal, where the people are largely monarchistic, principally owing to the attitude of the republic against the church.

CAMPAIGN AGAINST SPEEDERS.
SAN MATEO, Aug. 26.—Hillsboro, Burlingame and San Mateo are planning to combine in a crusade against auto speeding within their municipal boundaries. Reckless driving in high-powered cars which is usually confined to the county road has spread into the side streets of the three cities and many lives are endangered daily. The trustees of San Mateo are endeavoring to secure the co-operation of the other two municipalities in employing a special motorcycle policeman to patrol this district.

FAVORS THE HURD LAW.
DENVER, Aug. 26.—The executive board of the Western Federation of Miners went on record yesterday in favor of the Hurd eight-hour law, and authorized a vigorous campaign to keep the bill from being referred to the people.

WONDER-DRAMA IS MILLER PLAY

The Havoc Proves Marvel of Simplicity, Construction and Entertainment.

(By LEO LEVY.)

Echo answers, "The Havoc is an unusual play," and echo is right. Henry Miller trotted out H. S. Sheldon's latest tribute to his own genius at the Macdonough theater last night and an Oakland audience agreed that Miller, Sheldon and New York are successful at the gentle art of play-picking.

The Havoc gives Henry Miller plenty of leeway for a display of his several stage talents. The play being nothing left to do but to act it, Miller portrays the easy-going man, the outraged husband and the very devil of an avenger as only Miller can. Also taking into consideration that the actor manages his stage and his counting room, that he handles the reigns of the entire production, we'll have to agree with Wm. H. Thompson, who declares Miller is the hardest working man in the business.

To Francis Byrne there is due praise for his idea of Paul Hesser. His transition from the false philosophy to the self-wrecked is complete. The part is a test of the worth of any actor and Byrne takes advantage of it. Laura Hope Crews, too, as the wife, proves Miller's confidence in her as a leading lady. She is the pitifully weak little woman, a picture that is as accurate as it is unpleasant.

MARVEL OF CONSTRUCTION.

As for the play, daring in some spots and dirty in others, it is a marvel of simplicity and construction. Paul Hesser, a friend of the family, is the home-wrecker and Craig, Craig starts in to avenge himself with gunpowder and changes his mind for something deadlier. He gives his wife a divorce that she may marry Hesser, then comes to live with them, thus reversing conditions. When Hesser turns out a snake, a drunkard and an embezzler, Craig, as general manager of the railroad for which the husband of his former wife also toils, agrees to hide the defalcation. Kate promises to play in full the amount of her recreant spouse's theft. There is her old employment as stenographer open to her and she agrees to accept the first chance she gets. Craig gives her that and the curtain falls with the anger dictating a letter to the man who is to fill Hesser's place.

But with all the cleverness of The Havoc, despite its qualities of construction and entertainment, the points of the human triangle are getting dull. When will dramatists cease poking holes in the crust of domestic muck that the stench may be wafted over the footlights?

SOUTHERN PACIFIC AND POSTAL WAR IN OREGON

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 26.—Open war has broken out between the Southern Pacific and the Postal Telegraph Company here. An injunction requested by the Postal from the Federal Court reveals a conflict which may have national scope.

Judge Wolverton, in response to the petition of the Postal, has issued an order to the Southern Pacific that it show cause October 16 why a permanent injunction shall not be granted against the railway forbidding it to cut the wires or disturb the poles of the Postal Company at any place where they may be on the Southern Pacific right of way. The injunction will cover all the right of way within Oregon if it is granted.

Upon what the Postal officials here declare is an order coming from headquarters of the Harriman system, the Postal is being forcibly ejected from all points where it is on the Harriman right of way.

NO RAISIN TRUST, DECLARES COURT

Supreme Justices Say California Association is Not Trying to Restrain Trade.

(By LEO LEVY.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 26.—The Supreme Court of California has handed down a decision affecting the judgment of the Superior Court in holding that the California Raisin Growers' Association is not a trust, and ordering certain growers under contract to the association, who received advances on their crops exceeding the price paid thereon, to return the excess amounts to the association.

The association was formed for the purpose of packing advertising and selling raisins and had under contract 2800 raisin growers in 1903. The same year an excessive supply of the fruit resulted in low prices and at the close of the season the association discovered that it had advanced excessive amounts on crops to various men under contract. An attempt to collect resulted in a suit being filed by Andrew Abbott, who, on behalf of several hundred other growers, maintained that the association failed to state facts sufficiently to warrant an accounting. Abbott also contended that the association was organized to create a monopoly in the raisin trade, but the supreme justices, with the Superior Court, hold that there was nothing in the evidence to show that the association had engaged in any conspiracy for the restraint of trade, arbitrary fixing of prices, or had arranged to exclude raisins from packing houses not delivered by them.

3-YEAR PAROLE FOR "FIREBUG"

George S. Lester, Confessed Incendiary, is Placed on Probation.

SAN JOSE, Aug. 26.—George S. Lester, the young real estate broker and "society firebug" has escaped punishment. He had been admitted to parole for three years by Judge J. E. Richardson and the Probation Officer and his relatives and friends were charged to keep an eye upon him to see that he gets into no further mischief. Just prior to the making of the order of the court, Louis O'Neal, young Lester's attorney, tendered to J. C. Kennedy, deputy county clerk and clerk of the court, $2500 in currency "as an evidence of the good faith of the defendant in his agreement to reimburse the insurance company for its losses in the adjustment of the fire damage."
